Many Urged Special Session Because Army Appropriation Bill Failed in Last Congress

(By United Press.)

Washington, March 9.—A special session of congress was called this afternoon by President Wilson, to meet on Monday, April 16.In connection with the calling of the extra session of congress President Wilson also announced his position to arm American ships immediately to protect the lives and property of Americans on the high seas.What the president expected to do in an emergency was a mystery until it was announced this afternoon that he had decided to call a special session.One of two courses were open to him. He could call a special session and push through the armed neutrality bill or he could have acted on his own initiative under rulings by Secretary of State Lansing
and Attorney General Gregory, that ancient statutes do not prevent him from arming merchant vessels.Some of his advisors suggested that an extra session quickly called would be the proper course and more so because the army appropriation bill failed and the government can not pay its Mexican border forces until it passes.Passage of the armed neutrality bill would not only amount to a vote of confidence and a notice to the world that America is unified and patriotic and it would also provide money wherewith to operate.

With Administration

(By United Press.)

Washington, March 9.—William J.
Stone will be renominated chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, Senator Lewis, democratic whip of the senate, announced today.Since criticism of Stone's refusal to support President Wilson's armed neutrality plan has come largely from administration sources, the statement of Lewis was taken to indicate that an agreement had been reached to retain the present chairman.

The Stanley Automobile company has leased the west half of the lower floor of the Grand hotel from P.
A. Miller, owner of the building, and will move to the new location in about three weeks. The Stanley company will have a modern sales and display room in the new location. There is considerable work to be done on the building, such as tearing out of partitions and getting the room in shape.The main entrance will face the north in First street as is the present case. Mr. Miller has retired from the hotel business and is preparing to move to his farm. Joe Buschmohle will operate the hotel and will move the office to the second floor.The Stanley company has been in Rushville about a year and has been located in the west part of the rooms formerly occupied by the Mulno clothing store in Second quarters for some time and officials of the company believe the

$400 DAMAGES IS DEMANDED

The suit of Frank and Derby
Green against the C. I. & W. railway for $400 damages for the loss of two horses, was taken from the county on a change of venue this morning after a jury had been secured. Most of the morning was spent in obtaining a jury and then the railroad suddenly discovered things that were not heretofore known to it and filed the motion for a change of venue which the court granted. The court did not designate where he would send the case.
The costs of today's proceedings were taxed against the defendant.
The Greens lost two horses and allege negligence on the part of the railroad.The case of Johanan M. Amos against Samuel H. Colter, on a note demanding $150 was dismissed and the costs paid.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 9.—
Governor Goodrich this afternoon
struck out his signature to the Mc-Cray bill legalizing Sunday moving picture shows and creating a state board of censors and announced he would veto the measure. The executive took this action following a discovery that an amendment which he thought was in the measure had been tampered with before the bill reached his office. The amendment was supposed to provide that shows
could not be held before two o'clock on Sunday but the bill as it reached the governor provided that shows might be held any time during the day.Whether the motion picture theaters open up here Sunday is a bit problematical. They have not gotten together on any united program of action.Since Governor Goodrich signed the Sunday movie bill yesterday,
local people have begun to investigate the law and find that although it has an emergency clause attached making it effective with the governor's signature it also provides for the appointment of a commission and a penalty of $25 a day for picture houses which operate on Sunday showing pictures which have not been passed by the commission.It is pointed out that the commission has not been appointed by the governor and likely will not be before Sunday. In any event, it is not probable that any pictures which would be shown Sunday could have the stamp of approval of the board of censors because time would not permit.It is not probable that any motion picture show owner is going to take a chance of violating the law when there is any doubt about it. It is not likely they would risk a penalty of $25 when they can wait a few weeks until the law is thoroughly understood.Incidentally, the new law provides for a state license which will be used to meet the expenses of the board of censors, composed of three members who shall receive one thousand dollars a year. The law also provides that a clerk shall be employed at a salary of nine hundred dollars a year. The license fee for shows in cities the size of Rushville will be five dollars a year.Some show owners maintain that the state license fee will make it illegal for the city to collect a license fee. The shows here are paying twenty-five dollars a year. It is safe to say that the city will attempt to collect the fee until there is a test case and the courts rule that they are not entitled to it.The movie show men cite a recent decision of the state supreme court as foundation for their opinion. They say the city of Indianapolis attempted to collect a license fee for automobiles but that the supreme court ruled that the money could not be collected because automobile owners already paid a state license fee.As interpreted here, the law provides that moving picture shows may open at two o'clock Sunday afternoon and remain open the remainder of the day. Many were of the opinion that they could give shows
only from two until six. However,
the original bill provided moving picture shows could do business on Sunday. It was amended to read

(Special to the Daily Republican.)

Richmond, Ind., March 9.—Playing true to form Richmond's championship aspirants downed the Rushville high school five in the opening game of the district tournament here this afternoon, 50 to 20.Rushville never had a chance and the team was beaten from the first whistle. Richmond started in on the jump and soon had a commanding
lead which seemed to take the spirit
out of the Rushville team. The first half ended 32 to 8 in favor of Richmond.With everything favorable to Richmond that team took advantage of every opportunity. The only drawback to the Richmond team and fans was the referee, E. C. Bishop of Newcastle. Bishop had the fans and team down on him because of his work in past games on the Richmond floor and this afternoon when the fans and team started "to ride" him he called two fouls on the team. When Rushville took advantage of these free markers the crowd settled down and left the official alone.Rushville got off to a bad start.
The team seemed unable to get started and despite close guarding Oneal, Richmond star forward, succeeded in getting nine field goals.
Late in the last half Richmond sent in all of its substitutes. There appears to be little doubt now but that
Richmond will win the tournament.

MEN ARE EXPECTEDThey Will Outline Plans Not Only to Promote But to Compel Advertisers to be Honest

(By United Press.)

St. Louis, Mar. 9.—Ten thousand advertising men at the national convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the world here in June will outline plans not only to promote, but to compel absolute honesty in advertising, both among newspapers and advertisers themselves in the United States.The groundwork, the advertising men feel, has been laid by their several year's campaign advocating honesty in advertising. A number of newspapers have inaugurated honest advertising campaigns and
much progress, the organization feels, has been made. Now the plan will be to go out and actively fight dishonest advertising on a national basis.The Club's National vigilance committee has done a lot of this work already, but this will be increased and developed, the committee forming the basis for the national campaign for honesty in advertising.VICIOUSLY ASSAILS PRESIDENT WILSONBerliner Tageblatt Pictures America as Gleeeful Beneficiary at Europe's Deathbed

RECALLS CHANGES MADE

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Berlin, (Via Wireless), March 9.— Picturing America as "the gleeful beneficiary at the deathbed of European civilization," the Berliner Tageblatt viciously assailed President Wilson's abrupt change of front from his speech of December
to his present attitude as revealed in his inaugural address."Some of the state leaders of belligerent or of neutrals have spoken as often as President Wilson," the newspaper asserted. "His intention to change the idea of neutrality is evident from each successive speech.""This is proved in the last speech by his statement that 'America may possibly be forced to take an active part in the fight.'"The Tageblatt asserted the "time has passed for argument."The funeral services of Mrs. Margaret Gebhart, wife of John W. Gebhart, who died of apoplexy Tuesday night at her home on the Ed Adkins farm west of Carthage, were held yesterday afternoon at two o'clock at the late residence and burial took place in Walnut Ridge cemetery.TO LOCATE PLANT
IF GROWERS HELPWhether Reid, Murdoch & Co., Builds Catsup Factory Depends

If 150 Acres Can be Contracted For
This Season, Station Will be Erected, it is StatedWhether Reid, Murdoch and company builds a catsup factory here depends altogether on the reception
the farmers of Rush county give the project.A representative of the firm, which is a Chicago wholesale grocery house manufacturing its own canned goods, is driving over Rush county in an automobile investigating conditions, and if the proper cooperation is found among the farmers, a factory will be built here at once.In other words, speaking in terms of co-operation, if the company can contract for an acreage of tomatoes ranging from a hundred and fifty to two hundred, they will locate a plant in or near Rushville.Speaking today of the proposed enterprise, W. H. Deboer who is here making an investigation, said that Reid, Murdoch and company was very anxious to locate a station here because of the fine soil and the prosperous condition of the farmers.The contract which the firm asks the farmer to sign agrees to pay the producer of the tomatoes ten dollars a ton and the farmer furnishes only his land and his labor. The company agrees to furnish all the toma-
toe seeds necessary for the acreage and will also provide the crates in which to haul them.Mr. Lowe will be here tomorrow and an endeavor will be made to close some contracts, it is thought.
There will be a big sale in Rushville tomorrow, which leads them to believe that they can reach many farmers. Contracts are signed for any number of acres, some being as low as two and others as high as twenty.Mr. Deboer said the firm would be willing to take a chance the first year on a contract of one hundred and fifty acres, because the business could be increased as the years go by. The average tomato yield Mr. Deboer said, was six to eight tons an acre, but after one day's trip through Rush county, he feels sure that the average crop here would be from eight to ten tons to the acre.The Reid, Murdoch and company cans much of its products, including cabbage, pickles, tomatoes and other vegetables. The firm is desirous of increasing its catsup output. Mr.
Deboer says the concern has forty-
seven pickle stations in Wisconsin, Indiana and Michigan and that they used 264,000 bushels of pickles last years.One of the firm's largest plants is at Piercetown, Ind., near Warsaw, where they now have contracted for this year eight hundred acres of tomatoes, two hundred acres of cabbage and two hundred acres of pickles. They have a plant valued at about $150,000 at Piercetown and their payroll during August, September and October runs from $1,- 000 to $1,600 a week. From one hundred to one hundred and fifty persons are employed.Mr. Deboer met with a good response from the farmers he has already interviewed. He found many who were willing to raise from one to three acres. He also discovered that many Rush county farmers were already familiar with the opportunities offered in raising the crop for a canning factory. He found that Lem Ward, for instance, made $146 last year off of three acres.

Amusements

The Lyric offers the feature picture "Race Suicide" for the program tonight. It is a six act feature and is said to attempt a solution of an interesting problem. Ormi Hawley, Earl Metcalf and Kempton Green are featured.

The lives of the denizens of the woods are revealed in their true colors in the Mutual feature "The Strength of Donald McKenzie" shown at the Gem tonight. William Russell is featured. Mr. Russell as "Donald McKenzie," the poet nature man has a role for which he is ideally fitted and to which he adds the force of his personality and his powerful acting. Already he is recognized as a screen actor second to

"The Foolish Virgin" is the title of the feature drama at the Princess tonight. Clara Kimball Young is featured. The author is Thomas Dixon, who wrote "The Birth of a Nation." The story of "The Foolish Virgin" is intensely dramatic in character and offers Miss Young unlimited opportunities to display every phase of her notable talents. The story is replete with action and unusually well adapted to the requirements of the motion picture camera. The heroine of "The Foolish Virgin" is Mary Adams, a young school teacher, who, when not engaged in her work, dreams of the romantic days when the world was peopled by knights and beautiful ladies in distress. Mary Adams has an awakening which furnishes one of the dramatic incidents of the picture.

On Tuesday and Wednesday nights, and Wednesday matinee, March 13 and 14, David Warfield, beloved of all true lovers of the best in theatrical fields, will offer for two nights and Wednesday matinee, David Belasco's great revival of "The Music Master," at English's Opera House, Indianapolis. It was in "The Music Master" that the great American player made his most pronounced success, and in which he is appearing everywhere this season, in the revival, to packed houses.

Mr. Warfield plays the title role of "The Music Master" with an exquisite tenderness and pathos which has made the characterization one of the truly great pieces of acting in modern stage creations.

An excellent company has been assembled by Mr. Belasco in support of Mr. Warfield. The entire production of course bears the stamp of finish and distinction carried by all Belasco productions.

Mail orders for seats for this important attraction are being received now at English's, and will be filled promptly in order of their receipt, and returned when accompanied by a stamped self-addressed envelope, and remittance.

The Lyman H. Howe Travel Pictures will fill a return engagement at English's Opera House on Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, March 15, 16, 17 and 18, with matinees given on Saturday and Sunday. The series of Howe pictures this season is especially great. Some of the countries shown are the Hawaiian Islands, with surf bathing at Wai-ki-ki Beach and a railroad ride through the islands features, as well as a trip to the famous active volcano of Manuna Loa.

No more dullness, headache, no hawking, snuffling, mucous discharges or dryness; no struggling for breath at night. Tell your druggist you want a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream in your nostrils, let it penetrate through every air passage of the head; soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane, and relief comes instantly. It is just what every cold and catarrh sufferer needs. Don't stay stuffed-up and miserable.

ANITA STEWART SAYS

You have no doubt discovered the work for which you are best suited. Perhaps you are fortunate enough to see a bright future before you. If not, then you are making plans to change your surroundings, no doubt.

Any rate most of us are working for some firm at the present time. Are any of us abusing the firm which is paying us our salary—which is the means to our daily bread? Somehow that's a habit which a number of people have. They are inclined to speak unfavorably of their position. As a wise man once said, "If you are dissatisfied with your position, resign. Then go outside and cast as many aspersions upon the firm as you wish." Going outside is not always practicable I know, but if we must work for a man let us work for him with the best grace possible.

Then too, today it is often hard to progress and still remain perfectly self-respecting. However, I really believe that if you start out refusing to do anything underhanded or low that it will seldom be asked of you. The first time, however, that you deviate from the straight path you have revealed your own weakness, and you will probably be expected to do so again.

Under normal conditions you expect your employer to be fair to you. Are you fair to him? We all know that unless we have a certain amount of recreation or mental diversion that our work will suffer. Some firms, I know, desire their people to work so constantly that it is almost impossible to steal a few hours or an evening or holiday for the essential recreation. These firms are in the minority, however, and most employers realize that a period of relaxation eventually means greater returns.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

That Word "Traitor."

There are always a few hot-headed individuals who impugn men's motives when they have no actual knowledge of what gave rise to any given action. Certain newspapers and a few bombastic individuals in many cities of the United States have condemned the twelve United States senators who opposed the armed neutrality bill and the resolution giving President Wilson "unlimited power" to deal with the international crisis while congress was not in session.

Undoubtedly the dozen senators who, through the unlimited debate rule, were enabled to prevent the majority of the senate ruling, felt that they were doing the patriotic thing by voting as they did. But their critics have seen fit to call them "traitors." The late Mr. Webster defined a "traitor" as "one who violates his allegiance and betrays his country."

It is doubtless the case that those who have been so freely flung that simple little word about never realized just how serious a charge it is. We hold no brief for Senator LaFollette, but it hardly seems just to place him in the class with Benedict Arnold. We are not at war with Germany or any other nation on the face of the globe. It is difficult to see how the senator from Wisconsin has betrayed his country because he is an extreme pacifist and does not favor armed neutrality which would in a measure be a well defined step in the direction of war. It is not our intention to convey the thought that we should not defend our rights at sea, but there is none to deny that the arming of merchant ships is an invitation for attack.

The fault seems to lie with the senate's rules. The government is ruled by the majority. But in the case of the United States senate, a handful of men could hold off what was apparently the nation's will. Some senators opposed the armed neutrality bill not so much because they were pacifists but because they were jealous of the prerogatives of congress. Whenever all the power is lodged in the head of the government, American institutions will fall and congress might as well close up shop and go home. For congress to have given President Wilson unlimited power to deal with the international crisis would have been a grievous error.

In his demand for unlimited power in dealing with foreign affairs, President Wilson furnished the strongest argument in favor of an extraordinary session of congress. In his opening sentence he declared

A SAFE TEST

For those who are in need of a remedy for kidney troubles and backache, it is a good plan to try Doan's Kidney Pills. They are strongly recommended by Rushville people.

Mrs. Lizzie Boren, 840 W. 9th St., Rushville, says: "About six years ago I began to have trouble with my kidneys. The kidney secretions were very annoying in passage and the trouble kept getting worse. Doctors said it was gravel, but none of them ever did me any good. A short time ago I heard of how someone else was cured by Doan's Kidney Pills, so I got a box at Wolcott's Drug Store. They helped me and I kept on using them. I have taken four boxes so far and the pain has left and I feel a great deal better."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Boren had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props, Buffalo, N. Y.—(Adv.)

that 'we are moving through critical times during which it seems to me to be my duty to keep in close touch with the houses of Congress, so that neither counsel nor action shall run at cross purposes between us.' Later in his address, as an excuse for asking plenary power, he said that "it would take an unusual time to assemble and organize the congress which is to succeed" the one closing Sunday.

Since the constitution vests in congress alone the power to declare war, and since it is also true that we are passing through critical times during which it is the president's duty to keep in close touch with congress, there is every reason why the new congress should be immediately convened.

The demand for plenary power is in direct conflict with the plain intent of the constitution, which expressly provides that when extraordinary occasions arise, the president may convene either or both houses of congress. Instead of pursuing the policy indicated by the constitution which he is sworn to uphold President Wilson takes a course which the constitution was designed to prevent—seeks to supplant representative government by establishing what would be to all intents and purposes a dictatorship.

Undoubtedly the president seeks this with the highest motives. Undoubtedly he thinks he could run this government better if there were no legislative or judicial departments but all power were his own. As to the sincerity of his demands there can be no question, but the wisdom of his course will be questioned by all those persons who still believe in the superiority of the republican form of government and who have not lost confidence in the men they have chosen to represent them in the senate and house of representatives.

Europe is today embroiled in a war brought on as a result of centralization of power. May America escape that peril!

Defending Short Skirts.

Here's a minister who has come to the defense of the much maligned and much worn short skirt! He is the Rev. Allen A. Stockdale of the First Congregational church of Toledo, O., Opening the Ohio Shoe Dealers convention, he spoke on "Ministerial Views of Women's Styles." Listen to what he has to say.

"Every woman fears the day when she begins to look old. Any sane, intelligent style that gives her youth is a genuine benefit to the world. There is no reason to decry a style that follows the lines that God himself has made. The short skirt is far more sane than the long skirts that dragged in the dirt of the street in former years. And shoes have entered the realm of art."

"Some women make freaks of themselves and we men look at them when they go by just as we would look at a cage of monkeys. These women think they have made a tremendous hit but we were not admiring them at all."

DO YOU THINK THAT YOUR BOY NEEDS TO HAVE DOOR OPENED?

By MRS. MAX WEST (Written for United Press.)

Thin arms and legs, putty colored skin and listless manner in a child usually indicate that he needs to have the door opened for him. He needs to play in the sunshine.

He ought to have some pets—chickens, or pigeons or rabbits; he should have a garden plot and tools all his own, with some one to show him how to use them. He should have a swing, a teeter board, a sand pile, a ladder to climb if there are no trees available.

He should play out summer and winter, in the rain and in the snow if he wants to. He is starving for fresh air and exercise and if you will open the door to him you will do more for him than any doctor in the land could do. His appetite will come up.

You must give him plenty of good food to eat, and let him sleep till he wakes, put his bed out on the porch if there is one, and if not perhaps you can have one built.

Give him a good bath all over with warm water and soap at least twice a week, and a rub-down every morning with a towel wrung as dry as you can make it out of cold water.

If you do these things for a year you won't know him for the same boy.

OLD COMBINATION BACK FOR BRAVES

Fine Pitching Staff, Energetic Infield and Snappy Outfield Again in Action.

TEAM NOW AT MIAMI, FLA.

Stalling Believes He Will be Up in the Race From the Very Start This Year.

Boston, March 9.—The same sterling pitching staff, the same energetic infield, and the same snappy, punchy out-field, probably will be seen in action for the Braves again this year.

There are certain to be a few changes, but for the most part the Braves will be just as they finished a year ago. Such a solidity of purpose, a bulwark of defense, and an angle of attack have been developed that to tear away part of the machine would be to damage it badly, in the opinion of George Stallings. He made a game fight a year ago and he figures he will be able to deliver the same punch again this year.

The catching staff again will depend upon Hank Gowdy, the backstop who played with such amazing skill during the world's series of 1915. He will have as assistants Blackburn, a good youngster, and Traggesser. Riceo will be given a tryout, but is not expected to horn in ahead of the others.

Stallings remarked a short time ago that he has heard from Bill James and that the pitching staff believes he can get his arm into shape for a season this summer. James was useless in the last campaign, but was kept on in the hope that he would develop something. So far it has been a hope, but he will be given plenty of time to get in shape this spring.

Dick Rudolph, Nehf, Hughes, Ragan, Tyler, and Davis are expected to hold up most of the pitching. This staff is plenty for most any club. Stallings, in fact, is rated by many to be in a position to give the Giants a stronger battle for the pennant than any manager in the league.

Collins, Magee and Wilhoit, the outfield which did the heavy work last year, seems to have the call, but a Joe Kelly, obtained from Chicago in the trade which sent Fred Mitchell to that city, a promising man has been added. Kelly has had major league experience. He will have to show the goods if he sticks. Larry

14 Cent Corn

Fred Suhre of Columbus grew 530 bushels of shelled corn on five acres, or an average of 106 bushels per acre, at a cost of only 14 cents a bushel, and won the 1916 Corn Championship of Indiana.

SUHRE FARM RESULTS, 1916

Corn fertilized with Swift's Fertilizer, containing ammonia, phosphoric acid and potash, produced an increase per acre over the unfertilized of 19 bu.

Corn fertilized with only acid phosphate produced an increase per acre over the unfertilized of 9 bu.

Additional yield per acre from ammonia 10 bu.

Norris McHenry, 1914 State Champion Corn Grower of Indiana, had the following results on two five-acre plots:

Where Swift's Fertilizer was used, the average yield per acre was 112.1 bu.

Where competitors' fertilizer was used, the average yield per acre was 93.1 bu.

Additional average yield per acre where Swift's Fertilizer was used 19 bu.

The results from the Suhre and McHenry farms prove that Swift's Fertilizers are the best, and that Swift's Fertilizer containing ammonia is the most profitable.

THREE LAWS TO AID TUBERCULOSIS WAR

One Passed By Legislature Makes Referendum To See If County Wants Sanitorium

Measures Providing for Whole Time Health Officers And Nurses' Training Are Lost

Indianapolis, March 9.—Of great significance to the campaign against tuberculosis in the counties of Indiana is the recent passage of three bills aiding the movement. These measures worked out by the Legislative Committee of the Indiana Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis are available not only for the counties but for such as may be willing to undertake the care of their tuberculosis citizens.

In addition to the excellent county tuberculosis sanatorium law under which Indiana has already secured three good sanitoriums, the county tuberculosis workers will find in their hands a new tool—county referendum on sanatorium building. A majority of the voters at any regular election having approved a county tuberculosis sanatorium proposition, will have the satisfaction of having provision made by the commissioners for the care of their tuberculosis. This applies not to the poor especially, for the institution will require that where possible patients shall pay the cost of service rendered to them. It is hoped that this bill will enable the larger counties of Indiana to secure sanitoriums. The smaller counties will doubtless avoid the larger overhead cost of maintaining individual institutions by building district sanitoriums as the counties of Noble, DeKalb, Steuben and Lagrange are now preparing to do. The old law makes careful provision for the establishing of these district sanitoriums.

An adequate registration of living cases is now possible but can be more quickly secured if the county tuberculosis societies co-operate with the medical societies and local board of health. This will help bring every case of tuberculosis under some supervision.

Other bills that would have aided the anti-tuberculosis campaign had they become laws, those providing for the training of tuberculosis nurses in county sanitoriums for the establishing of whole time county health officers, for the medical inspection of school children and for state aiding to county tuberculosis sanitoriums. These are matters which must await the action of another legislature.

The health workers of Indiana, by utilizing to the fullest extent, the opportunities given, will be enabled to make great progress during the next two years.

DON'T SUFFER WITH NEURALGIA

Musterole Gives Delicious Comfort

When those sharp pains go shooting through your head, when your skull seems as if it would split, just rub a little Musterole on the temples and neck. It draws out the inflammation, soothes away the pain, usually giving quick relief.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister.

Many doctors and nurses frankly recommend Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet—colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). It is always dependable.

LADY COPS HAVE CINCH IN LONDON

Must First Pass an Examination That is a Stinger—Get $6.00 a Week For Work.

"MILLIE" DAWSON IN CHARGE

(By United Press.) London, Feb. 20.—(By Mail)—"Wanted; Ladies to act as policemen; must be well educated, and not afraid of work; salary $6 a week."

It's no easy matter for a lady to become a "bobby" in London. After she has assured the authorities that she's a "perfect lady," and a demon for work, she must go through a severe course of sprouts before she can start drawing down her six per.

Here's the test:

Report for roll-call at 9:30 every morning of the week. Start at once on patrol work, and later go on duty at the police station. In the afternoon more patrol work and attendance at the childrens court. From 4 to 5 instructions from inspectors in special duties. From 8 to 10 more patrol work to finish up the day.

The lucky ones who pass the test are then sent to the munitions factories.

WOMAN SENDS HER HUBBY TO COLLEGE

Insists That he Knows Enough to Earn More Than She Does—Believes in Efficiency.

SHE IS AN EXPERT DESIGNER

(By United Press.) San Francisco, March 9.—Mrs. Esther Bereovitz Kehoe is sending her husband to college today because she believes in business efficiency. She is a designer for a tailoring company.

If a woman discovers she can earn more than her husband, says Mrs. Kehoe, the husband should be educated to such an extent that his earning ability is equal to that of his wife. And while hubby is getting this education, wife should support the family, she believes.

"I see nothing out of the ordinary in our arrangement," she said today. "The situation was this: 'I was getting a better salary than my husband. So we thought it best that he should go to college and increase his efficiency. While he is doing this, the husband should look after the housework. My husband gets home from school early and prepares dinner. He is learning to be an expert chemist, and in a short time will be able to command a good salary."

"The trouble with most American women is that they don't look at matters in a practical, business-like way. With European women, and I am one, it is different. I learned my lesson in Roumania. When I was a child I found it necessary to make my way, but in Roumania a woman cannot earn her own living. So my brother and I went to Paris, where I learned designing."

WILL B. READY
AS A U. S. MARINE.

St. Louis, March 9.—Although Shakespeare said "there is nothing in a name," Will B. Ready of 6033 Cates Avenue, this city, has proved an exception to the rule by offering his service as a fighter in the United States Marines.

Ready, whose name sounds like a slogan for national preparedness weighs 175 pounds and is over 6 feet tall. He is pronounced a marvel of strength by physical examiners, although a few months under the required military age. He was requested to obtain the consent of his parents or defer his enlistment.

Will B. Ready says he will be ready when his parents and the U. S. Marines say the word.

Moline-Universal Tractor A PROVEN SUCCESS

The Moline-Universal is the ideal tractor for the average size farm. It pulls the usual five-horse load—will do as much work as seven horses, owing to its greater speed and endurance. It requires less space than one horse and less care than one horse. It can be used for plowing, harrowing, planting, cultivating, mowing, haying and harvesting—in fact, all field work.

The Moline-Universal is easier to handle than a team of horses, weighs about the same, turns in a 16-foot circle and will back with the implement attached. It is compact, simple, close-coupled, a wonderful puller and carries no dead weight. And best of all, it is operated from the seat of the implement attached. This permits one man to operate both tractor and implement, and removes him from any possible vibration of the engine.

Not An Experiment

Every feature of the Moline-Universal has been given the careful, earnest study of experienced tractor engineers.

No other tractor on the market will do such a great variety of work, nor is as correct in design and construction.

Besides the heavy work given it on the many farms, where it has operated during the last two years, men of long experience with tractors have tested the present up-to-date Moline-Universal in a most thorough manner in various sections of the country on different kinds of work.

Built and Backed by $19,000,000 Concern

When you buy a tractor it is important to know that it is built by a firm of unquestioned experience in farm machinery construction, who are thoroughly responsible, and who stand behind it with a strong guarantee.

We have been building farm machinery for over 50 years; and our $19,000,000 paid-up capital stands back of our guarantee and is proof that we have given the farmers of America conscientious and satisfactory service.

The Moline-Universal Tractor is an important addition to the unrivalled Moline Line, which includes every tool necessary to prepare the seed bed, plant, cultivate and harvest crops. Any of these tools may be used with the Moline-Universal.

against high prices and the Spring of 1917 is the time to use this weapon to your advantage. Everything you have to buy is away above normal price and only by shrewd buying can you overcome this condition.

I have bought buggies on which I could make a nice profit by re-selling them at present wholesale prices, but they will be sold to the buggy users of this locality at a price based on the market they were bought on, which means a saving of at least $10.00 to $15.00 on each job.

OUR OPENING on MARCH 16th and 17th will convince you of these facts, if you will favor me with enough of your time to look at my line of Vehicles.

I want your vehicle business and if the best of standard makes of vehicles at prices that mean $10.00 to $15.00 saved will get it, I am sure going to get it. Every buggy guaranteed—they have to be right—I am not satisfied unless my customers are. Every customer must be a friend and a booster for my buggies. Some dealers say I cannot live and sell buggies at my prices. (I will let you know when to send flowers.) In the meantime save yourself some money by buying your buggies of a man who thinks just as much of making friends as he does of making sales. Receipts and Suggestions That Are Helpful to The Housekeepers

The meeting of the Monday Circle to be held on Monday afternoon will be at the home of Mrs. B. F. Miller instead of Miss Mullin as announced in the program. An interesting program is anticipated, with a paper by Mrs. Jess Pugh on "A Drama of Fancy—the Tempest;" and a paper by Mrs. Gilbert on "Supernatural in Shakespeare."

Favors and decorations suggested by St. Patrick's Day were used by Miss Bessie Knotts in entertaining the members of the Priscilla Art Club at her home in Falmouth yesterday afternoon. The pleasant afternoon hours were whiled away over fancy work and the hostess served a delicious luncheon, during the service of which she gave shamrocks as favors. In two weeks, Miss Doris Saxon of Glenwood will entertain the club members.

All of the members of the Yomo Club were present at the pleasant meeting held at the home of Mrs. Emmet Pegley in West Ninth street yesterday afternoon, and enjoyed the afternoon together. For the service of the luncheon, the dining table was prettily decorated in green and white. A fern centered the table and at each place, a St. Patrick's Day favor awaited the guests. Mrs. Amos Baxter will entertain the club members in two weeks.

When Mr. and Mrs. Norm Norris went into their home last evening, they were more than surprised to find a number of their friends there and an elegant supper prepared. At this time quotations from Shakespeare will be given. Mrs. Walther will discuss "Shakespeare's Time and Life History" and Miss Freda Saxon will read a paper on "Different Styles of Plays."

St. Patrick's Day was suggested in the appointments of the affair given yesterday afternoon when Mrs. Charles H. Brown entertained the members of the Social Dozen at her home in West Fourth street. The first part of the afternoon was spent socially and later the hostess served an elegant dinner. A french basket overflowing with white carnations and greenery was in the center of the table, where St. Patrick's place cards marked the places and shamrock favors were placed. The ice and other appointments of the dinner were in green. In two weeks, Mrs. Merrill Ball will entertain.

The Easter market held in connection with the meeting was a financial success. The service of dainty refreshments by the hostess concluded the meeting. Mrs. Will Lafara will have the next meeting of the society on April 12.

STYLES FOR CHILDREN

The inclination just now is toward the simplest lines, and bloomers are included, as a matter of course, in frocks, not only for the littlest girl, but for her elder sister, who may be almost in her teens.

Chambray, Scotch ginghams, linens, batistes and lawns are the favorite fabrics. Sometimes there is a yoke, to which the material is gathered and held in position by rows of smocking in colored threads. It has taken some time for this form of decoration to become popular in this country. For many years it has been a favorite means of ornamentation in England and, to a less extent, in France.

The type of smock that fastens on either shoulder and is slipped over the head is shown for both little boys and girls. In the garment for the former the smock is cut much shorter than when it is for the girl, and the bloomers are not as full as those worn by the latter.

While white remains the only thing considered in connection with the clothes of infants, color has crept into the little dresses, coats and hats of children who have entered their second or third year. Even the standard pale blue and pale pink now have rivals in such shades as maize, old blue and rose. Now and then one meets a light green color or a pale lavender, but on the whole these have not a very large representation in juvenile clothes.

The matter of long waist or short waist is one that the mother may decide for her child, according to the former's preference. The very little girls wear yoke dresses, but those who have attained as many as five years or more wear long waisted frocks with a belt. On the whole, perhaps these are preferred, excepting for the party frock, which has a short waist, very fluffy skirt and a sash finish.

GIRL'S SPRING MILLINERY

What is prettier than the mushroom shape for a little girl's hat? Not only can it be easily made by the unskilled mother, but it will be assured a second and even a third season, for the mushroom never goes out of style in juvenile millinery.

No matter how clever you are with the needle, it is always the best plan to buy the shape in the shop, then cover it with the same material used for the little girl's coat. To begin covering cut a straight piece of goods wide enough to cover both top and bottom of the brim and long enough to go around the lower and larger edge. Allow several inches on both dimensions.

Sew the ends together on the wrong side, run white basting line through the center (use silk thread if the material is silk or velvet), then turn in the top edge on the wrong side and gather with tiny stitches until you have made it tight enough to fit snugly around the base of the crown. Sew it there after adjusting the gathers.

The top of the crown is covered by a circular piece of goods, no care being taken of the finish, as it will

Now Fashion Has Put the Indian Sign on the Women

Possibilities of Blankets Woven in Guatemala by Maya Tribe Are Limitless Because They Offer All Sorts of Opportunities to be Put to New and Unheard of Uses. Seems Sort of Like Taking Candy From a Child to be Taking Fashions From Indians When Blankets and a String of Beads Are All They Have.

By MARGARET MASON (Written for United Press.)

Maya, Oh Maya, my Indian maid, You put all the Paris belles quite in the shade;

Your colorful blanket so gaudy and rich,

They've taken for mantles, skirts, linings and such;

And other new fashions now flicker and fade

Are the gay garments by Indian made.

New York, March 9.—And now Fashion has put the Indian sign on us!

Seems sort of like taking candy from a child to take our fashions from the Indians when about all the poor things have to their backs is a blanket and a string of beads.

But oh, these gorgeous hued blankets that the Maya Indians weave in Guatemala are much too beautiful to be wasted on the primitive fastnesses of Central America.

The possibilities of an ordinary blanket seem exhausted after you have used it as covering for body, bed or horse. The possibilities of the Maya blankets, loosely woven of pure wool and dyed in vivid and divers stripes are almost limitless.

The Mayas know how to make 'em but the fashions experts know how to use 'em, as is evidenced by a recent showing of Maya models in a famous New York and Philadelphia department store.

Loose wraps of oyster white and bisque shantung are lined throughout with the gorgeous Maya blankets. Beach and summer suits of white, grey and ecru silk have vivid Maya blanket touches on collar, cuffs, pockets and lapels. Sport skirts entirely evolved from Maya blankets, with their rainbow bars of color, make you long to be behind the bars.

These blankets as well as the embroideries which resemble the primitive embroideries of the Russian peasants are all made by the Mayas on hand looms and because the looms are very narrow the blankets are all made in half widths with a trimming touches the embroideries central seam.

Next to the blankets as attractive find place and are used on costumes in the same manner as collars, cuffs and pockets. The embroideries also make stunning table and cushion covers and the bands of embroidery are used effectively as borders on parasols, hat trimmings, hand bags and blouse adornments.

also used in their natural state to be knotted around fair shoulders or hat crowns.

Not all of the Maya blankets, scarfs and embroideries are in riotous colorings either. These wonderful aborigines of Central America have shown themselves most considerate of the fashionable wants of 1917 American matrons and bachelor maids of years of discretion and so they have almost as great an output of embroideries done entirely in black and white or grey and white, blankets striped in the same neutral montones and scarfs woven in plaids and stripes of the same. Therefore everyone can be smart and all Mayed up and still cling to her color schemes of life.

All the blankets, scarfs and large pieces of embroidery shown on the Maya models are original pieces brought direct from the Indian tribes of Guatemala but the most of the embroidery handings are modern Manhattan manipulations of Maya methods, designs and colorings.

You can now buy ribbons at the ribbon counter and embroidery handings at the trimmings counter that will furnish up your last summer suit to the last word in modish Mayaish.

Silks by the yard in Maya designs and colorings are also being manufactured and stockings embroidered in Indian symbols are by no means at the foot of the Maya list of fashionable fads. The ribbons and embroidered bands manufactured here are really beautiful and almost defy detection when placed side by side with Indian originals.

But if you want a blanket touch much as I hate to be a wet blanket I am constrained to tell you that you'll have to go to Guatemala for it. Or rather the house that is making Maya specialties will have to import one for you. It strikes me it would be almost as simple to import a Maya instead. Think how handy it would be to have a little Maya in your home busily weaving your blankets for you while you wait.

The main point is that we have to be good Indians this season. At present a Maya costume is more swagger than a Poirer model, a Maya bonnet than a Georgette chapeau. At the beginning of the war Paris trembled lest New York usurp her laurels as the fashion center of the world. Who could have dreamed that her mantle of fashionable greatness would have descended on Guatemala in Central America and in descending turn into an Indian blanket.

be hidden. Next a bias piece of material is cut long enough to exactly fit the sides of the crown as a band after the slanting ends have been joined. This is generally finished before being sewed on the crown, either by stitching or cording.

The trimming should be extremely simple. A silk cord, with tassels tied on one side, or one of the new crocheted chain cords ending in balls covered with the coat's material makes a good finish.

TO MAKE A TEA-BOY.

Take an old-fashioned washstand which has arms for hanging towels, and also a drawer for dish towels and a lower shelf for conveniences.

If one has a large server, use that for a stationary try—for the upper part; if not, cleats nailed around the edge of stand will serve to protect dishes from sliding.

Then get large casters about four inches in diameter; these will roll the stand anywhere.

Very convenient for the table clearing, table setting, and in many other ways, and saves hundreds of steps every day.

"SAVE THE BABIES."

These are authentic quotations from the pamphlet on babies by Dr. L. Emmett Holt of Columbia University and Dr. Henry L. K. Shaw of Union University.

At 12 months the baby should be weaned from the bottle and taught to drink milk from a cup. Four cups daily. He may also have cereals twice a day. They should be thoroughly cooked and strained. During his second year he should have four meals a day at 6 and 10 a. m., and 2 and 6 p. m. He should have nothing but water between meals.

Famous German Count, Who Didn't

SQUANDERS HIS FORTUNE

First Balloon Ascension Made in
Wealthy Family

London, March 9.—Count Zeppelin, inventor of the airship that bears his name, is dead, according to a dispatch from Berlin. According to a Berlin telegram transmitted by an Amsterdam correspondent, Count Zeppelin died yesterday at Charlottenburg, near Berlin, from pneumonia.

Count Ferdinand Zeppelin became famous at the age of 70 as the builder of the world's first practical dirigible balloon. On his seventy-fifth birthday he navigated his twentieth airship to celebrate the occasion. But before he had achieved fame he had devoted a half century of his life, exhausted his personal fortune of $750,000 and sacrificed a brilliant career as a German cavalry leader, in conquering the air.

Emperor William recently proclaimed Count Zeppelin to be "the greatest German of the twentieth century." As a token of appreciation he conferred upon him the exalted Order of the Black Eagle, the highest honor in the Emperor's power.

It was in the United States that Count Zeppelin made his first balloon ascension. It occurred while he was following Gen. Carl Schurz in the civil war as a military observer for the German Army. A captive balloon in use for military observations by Union troops greatly interested the young German officer, and he was taken up in it in 1863.

Scion of a wealthy family of ancient lineage, Count Zeppelin was born in Constance, Baden, in 1838. As a youth he was trained for a soldier's career. He fought through the Austro-Prussian and the Franco-Prussian wars, and is said to have been the first German soldier to cross the frontier into France in the last-named conflict. Serving in the German cavalry for three decades, he rose to a rank of general when 42 years old. He retired ten years later, a distinguished soldier, to devote all his time to the problem of aeronautics.

He began to study and experiment soon after arriving in Germany from the American civil war. Except for the time demanded in routine military duties, for the time spent in fighting two wars, and for a year spent in honeymooning with his bride, who was a girl of the German nobility, he spent the remainder of his life in building flying contrivances that, for the most part, refused to fly.

From a wealthy nobleman owning vast estates, Count Zeppelin was gradually reduced to an aristocratic mechanic living in a humble cottage on an allowance supplied by his friends. He met many narrow escapes from death, and disaster repeatedly overtook his airships. These became so frequent that pert paragraphs began to appear in the German press in ridicule of his efforts.

Then in a day the tide turned. He electrified a skeptical world in 1908 by staying aloft for thirty-seven hours in the fifth airship he had built and by sailing it in a straight course for a distance of nearly 900 miles. Emperor William, and all Germany in fact, hailed him as the "conqueror of the air."

SQUIRREL BAROMETER
AND HE ISN'T NUTTY
(By United Press.)

Columbus, O., March 9.—Governor Cox's secretary, Charles E. Morris, foretells the weather every day by his squirrel barometer, and he isn't nutty either. He says if he sees the bushy tails carrying provisions up to their houses when he goes to work in the morning he looks out for a storm next day, but if it's to be fair weather the squirrels stay down on the ground.

DIPLOMATESS TO WED IN WASHINGTON

British Embassy, to Marry
Horace Seymour.

SHORTLY AFTER EASTER

Washington, March 9.—The world sat up and took notice when Miss Violet Erskine of London was appointed secretary to the British Embassy here. It was the first official appearance of a woman in the diplomatic circles of the world. Early next month, it is learned today, she will desert diplomacy for matrimony.

Miss Erskine will wed Horace Seymour, third secretary of the British Embassy in Washington, some day soon after Easter Sunday, April 8. Miss Erskine is the daughter of the late Thomas Erskine, who was British Consul General in New Orleans. She is a handsome young woman, blonde, graceful and charming and a great favorite with Sir Cecil and Lady Spring-Rice. She won her appointment through her exceptional knowledge of customs and American institutions.

The wedding, it is presumed, will take place at the embassy. The original plan was for a wedding trip to England, but whether that will be taken is not known at this time.

Notice to Bidders

"Your Flag and My Flag" Is Sweeping the Country

Has Wilbur D. Nesbit written a new national anthem in his poem "Your Flag and My Flag?" The simple, stirring verses are now sweeping the country, and one enthusiastic admirer pronounces them the best expression of American sentiment since Drake wrote his famous poem beginning "When Freedom from her mountain height." Still others declare it to be more American in its expression and more in tune with national thought of today than "The Star Spangled Banner" or even "America." Without entering into a discussion of its merits as compared with other national songs and poems, it is interesting to note that no poem published in recent years has so thoroughly taken hold of the American people. The first stanza may be quoted:

"Your flag and my flag—

And how it flies today

In your land and my land

And half a world away!

Rose-red and blood-red

The stripes forever gleam;

Snow-white and soul-white—

The good forefathers' dream.

Sky-blue and true-blue, with stars

to gleam aright—

The gloried guidon of the day, a shelter through the night."

Public speakers in every state of the union have been, and are, swaying their audiences with Nesbit's

School children everywhere are

public and parochial schools of Chicago and elsewhere. It has appeared in the Congressional Record several times, and governors of various

proclamations. Hardly a week passes that some musician does not send Mr. Nesbit a suggested musical setting for the poem, but as yet the right composition has not been found.

Mr. Nesbit for years was known as one of America's foremost magazine and newspaper writers, and within the past seven years he has taken his place as one of three leading writers of advertising in America. He is vice-president of the Mahin Advertising Company, of Chicago and New York. He is now writing and supervising copy for such concerns as The B. F. Goodrich Co., Akron, O.; The Baltimore & Ohio R. R.; The Carnation Milk Products Co., Seattle, Wash.; Wilson & Co., Chicago; The Ashland Mfg. Co., Chicago; Grinnell Gloves; The Haynes Automobile Company, Kokomo; The Lowe Bros. Paint Co., Dayton, O.; The Thread Mills Co., Chicago; The Cheney Talking Machine Co.; and Marshall Field & Co., wholesale, Chicago. Hundreds of thousands of dollars are spent in newspapers, magazines and farm papers by these advertisers in copy written by Mr. Nesbit.

His years of training in newspaper writing gave him the experience and the knowledge of how to make whatever he writes touch a responsive chord in the reader and stir his mind to action to do whatever Mr. Nesbit's pen so deftly points the way.

"The flag verses," Mr. Nesbit says, "are, in a certain sense, an advertisement for the American flag. They express what I think is in the heart of every American concerning his country's banner. Of course, it is gratifying to know that so many other people agree with the sentiment in the verse."

P. F. Volland & Co., Mr. Nesbit's publishers of Chicago and New York, were quick to see the wide demand the flag poem would create, and have published it as a hand-colored motto, also as a large poster-size motto for schools, business offices, etc., and as a steel-engraved postcard. In its postcard form it first appeared when the state militia was mobilized on the Mexican border, and it was the favorite of the soldier boys as a missive to the folks at home.

Mosquitoes.

The mosquito is a small, pernicious insect of the winged variety which goes around punching holes in summer boarders and singing about it.

It is more subtle and insinuating and somewhat less abrupt than a bumble bee but no less effective. Having been punctured on various spots and occasions by both, we are in a position to speak authoritatively.

Last summer we met a large, pot-bellied he-mosquito which seranaded our left leg fifteen times with the same song without changing his needle once.

Experience teaches that a mosquito can survive anything but oil of citronella or a hearty slap on the back.

HOOSIER BRIEFS.

Vincennes—Alfred Meyer was sentenced to serve from ten to twenty years in prison when he pleaded guilty to robbing several houses here and at Evansville.

Evansville—The Evansville Veneer works has adopted the "more daylight" plan, starting work at 6 a. m. and closing at 4:30.

LaPorte—LaPorte residents are making plans to fight the high cost of food by raising garden stuff in land surrounding the city. Fifty acres are available for the purpose, according to the chamber of commerce.

Gary—Veterans of the Civil and Spanish-American wars will greet the Gary national guard company when they return from the border about the middle of March.

Jim Tarplee and SIMPLICITY are synonymous—whatever that is. 9MAR.14.15.

Backache

In spite of the best care one takes of oneself, any part of the human machine is liable to become out of order. The most important organs are the stomach, heart and kidneys.

The kidneys are the scavengers and they work day and night in separating the poisons from the blood. It is only reasonable to believe that they are liable to derangement. Their signals of distress however, are easily recognized and include such symptoms as backache, depression, drowsiness, irritability, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic twinges, dropsy, gout.

"The very best way to restore the kidneys to their normal state of health," says Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., "is to drink plenty of pure water and obtain from your favorite pharmacy a small amount of Anuric (double strength), which is dispensed by most every druggist." Anuric is inexpensive and should be taken before meals. You will find Anuric more potent than lithia, dissolving uric acid almost as water does sugar.

NEWS OF SOUTH BEND.

South Bend, Ind.—"When I began taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Favorite Prescription I was suffering from stomach trouble, constipation, and woman's weakness. The 'Golden Medical Discovery' had been a favorite remedy for coughs with my mother. I used the two remedies off and on for nearly a year. I was relieved of the womanly trouble, and the stomach trouble improved under this treatment. The 'Pleasant Pellets' have also been used with the greatest benefit."—MRS. JOHN SHAPLEY, 613 S. National Tuberculosis Association Announces Result of Campaign Last Year.

GIVES NEWSPAPERS CREDIT

Slogan of Campaign Realized—Tremendous Advance Seen Over Past Years.

BY GEORGE MARTIN
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

New York, March 9.—The National Tuberculosis Association announced today that the holiday sale of Red Cross Christmas seals had raised $1,000,000 for the tuberculosis campaign.

“Without the co-operation of the newspapers these tremendous results from the Red Cross seal sale would have been impossible,” said Dr. Charles J. Hatfield.

The Association is proud of the fact that the slogan of the campaign “on seal for every inhabitant of the United States” has been realized. The sale last fall amounts to a voluntary tax of one cent for each man, woman and child in the country, except the insular possessions.

Seals were sold in every state and territory of the United States except Guam, Tahiti and Samoa. Counting the school children who sold seals numbering approximately 300,000, the total number of agents approaches 500,000. This includes school teachers, merchants, store keepers, professional men.

The association says the little Christmas tokens have been responsible, not only for the control of tuberculosis, but also for tremendous advances in the whole field of public health work.

IS SHORT OF LICENSE TAGS

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., March 9.—Auto license tags are scarce at the secretary of state's office and for several days it has been necessary to supplement the tags with certificates. The scarcity is due to the fact that the manufacturing firm in St. Louis is making tags for six other states and is unable to obtain sufficient material. The shortage may also be attributed, according to the secretary, to the fact that more than 50,000 tags have been issued so far this year.

Rittenhouse Believes All Can Derive Benefits From Tanlac

Mishawaka, Ind., March 8th.—W. H. Rittenhouse, employe of the Mishawaka Woolen Mills Co., of 1018 North Margaret street, this city, believes many others can gain relief through use of Tanlac, the Master Medicine, just as he has.

"My system was run down generally the time," Mr. Rittenhouse said on December 3, "My stomach, liver and kidneys were out of order and I also suffered from rheumatism. My food was not digested properly and none of my food tasted right. My kidneys caused severe pains in my back. The rheumatism caused severe pains in my limbs.

"The tired feeling that formerly bothered me almost constantly, has entirely disappeared since I've started taking Tanlac and I seem to have gained strength in all ways. My food tastes much better now and I enjoy what I eat. I can eat anything I care for, too, without any bad after effects.

"I've benefited so much by Tanlac that I'm glad of this chance to recommend it to others for I believe it will help others just as it did me." Tanlac, the Master Medicine, is especially beneficial for stomach, liver and kidney trouble, catarrhal complaints, nervousness, loss of appetite and the like.

Tanlac is now being specially introduced and explained at F. E. Wolcott's drug store; in Arlington, at Mrs. L. T. Davis's; in Carthage at J. H. McCarthy and Sons and in Milroy at Barton's and Sheppard.—(Adv.)

Sacramento, Cal., March 9.—If somebody stood up and yelled that quatrains down the Imperial valley today the melon growers would be in an awful fix because they have a hundred million lady bugs working for them killing off undesirable insects.

Agents of the States bug house spent weeks up in the mountains this year gathering the little red ladies with the speckled backs, who are considered particularly effective against the gentlemen bugs who attack the growing cantaloupe.

The California lady bug is getting quite a world wide reputation. Some several millions of her have been shipped to Italy and Australia for experimental purposes.

INDIANA WOMEN GOING.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 9.—Fifty Indiana suffragists have made plans to attend the annual council meeting of the Federation of Women Clubs which will be held in New Orleans April 9 to 14. OBSERVERS FACE TRYING MOMENTS

In One Instance With the Balloon Falling the Two Men Took Time to Telephone to Earth.

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

With the British Armies in the Field, Feb. 4.—(By Mail)—You remember the country fair? Remember the tremor of expectancy in the crowd gathered around the dingy old hot-air balloon as she swelled, oh, so slowly, with the smoke and fumes of the barrel-stave fire?

Will you ever forget the thrill she gave you as she lazily lurched into the air, dragging with her the fellow in the darned but spangled purple tights, the parachute-jump man with oiled hair plastered down on his forehead? You secretly half hoped he would fall and half feared he would.

And then, at about fifteen hundred feet, the aeronaut's mad leap, his dead drop of 300 or 500 feet, the slow opening of the parachute and swinging drift to the ground: Remember?

Suppose you had to leave your job in the office, shop or on the farm, and begin such performances tomorrow? Suppose you had to go up in a balloon, in any and all sorts of weather, to be shot at by artillery and lunged at by hostile aircraft? Suppose you had to leap from burning balloons, or get tossed out of the basket of one while passing through the clouds?

What if America should suddenly find herself in a war and the billboards should say: "Your Country Needs You." Think you could do these things for her? British boys are doing the little trick every day. Yesterday they were clerking in stores, working in shops, book-keeping in offices or going to school. Today they are making parachute-leaps from balloons and other more thrilling things still.

Yesterday that Lieutenant you find yourself talking to, was a pink-and-white youth at Eton preparing to go up to Cambridge. Today he considers fighting duels above the clouds with Germans as much a part of his job as yesterday he considered calculus to be. Yesterday he was a school kid writing essays about flowers. Now he handles a machine-gun like a demon as he hurtles through the sky two miles a minute, or nose-dives after a war-hardened youth like himself when he is trying to kill.

Here's an example. The incident occurred in the observation balloon section. Two youngsters, carrying out observations over the German defenses, suddenly got a shell through their balloon. It began to fall, slowly at first, then faster. They were about a mile high.

"We're hit and falling!" one of the observers phoned down to the ground. "The hostile gun is at X-22-D62!" A moment later the second observer phoned down the position of the hostile battery which had punctured them, but gave the position slightly different.

Then both boys jumped. Their parachutes opened about the same distance down and, not more than fifty feet apart, they were wafted earthward together.

"The blighters!" one youth called over to the other as they dangled half a mile above the earth. "They couldn't do that again in a million shots."

"Rummy lot of stale cheeses!" growled the other, waving an arm in the direction of the Germans. "Pure accident! They couldn't hit a bread-wagon if they tried." Thus chatting they landed in a field about a mile from their winch, and patiently trudged back.

"I'm sorry to note," said the company commander as they entered the hut serving as balloon section telephone central, "that you two gentlemen failed to agree on the location of the hostile battery which brought you down." And though there was a twinkle in his eyes, his voice was severe.

"Sorry, sir!" one of the young officers replied with a smart salute, but perhaps our error was due to the observations being taken at different altitudes." Throughout the British army one finds boyish-looking officers. And they have again and again proved themselves up like this, when the pinch has come.

Two other young officers while at an altitude of about 4,000 feet found themselves caught in a windstorm before they could be hauled down. Just before reaching earth a violent gale hit the balloon, which pulled the winch on the ground completely over, snapping the wire cable. The sausage went up and off among the clouds like a bubble in a whirlwind.

At a tremendous height the balloon was struck by lightning and set on fire, throwing one of the officers out of the basket. His parachute opened but as the balloon, now falling like a rock, had its rigging tangled up with the lower cords of the parachute, the latter began descending at frightful velocity through the storm clouds. The officer might have cut the balloon loose, making his own escape a certainty, but he would have doomed his brother officer to certain death. So he refrained, preferring to take the millionth chance along with the other man.

The velocity of the fall extinguished the fire which had burned a great hole in the balloon and wind, getting in through this opening, caused the fabric to swell out thus forming a parachute of itself. The ground was reached with a thud which broke a collar-bone or two but both young men walked to the nearest dressing station where they "reported" before receiving first aid.

GRAIN SUPPLIES ARE MUCH LOWER

Stocks in Hands of Farmers Are Considerably Smaller This Year Than Usual

CROP SUMMARY REPORT MADE

Exceptionally Favorable Spring Will be Necessary to Bring Them up to Average

Stocks of grains in the hands of Indiana farmers are considerably smaller this year than usual, according to George C. Bryant, field agent for Indiana of the United States department of agriculture. This is due, he declares, principally to the high prices and great demand for all cereal products, all of which are of very good quality, and, to some extent, the small crops harvested last year.

Much complaint has been received regarding the damage to growing crops. Insufficient moisture and excessively cold weather the first part of February are the principal causes set forth. An exceptionally favorable spring will be necessary to bring the crops up to the average.

A summary of the March crop report for the state of Indiana and for the United States, as compiled by the Bureau of Crop Estimates (and transmitted through the Weather Bureau), U. S. Department of Agriculture, is as follows:

Wheat on Farms

State: Estimated stocks on farms March 1 this year, 2,530,000 bushels compared with 10,028,000 a year ago and 6,486,000 two years ago. Price on March 1 to producers, $1.76 per bushel, compared with $1.11 a year ago and $1.42 two years ago.

United States: Estimated stocks on farms March 1 this year, 101,000,000 bushels compared with 244,448,000 bushels a year ago and 152,903,000 two years ago. Price March 1 to producers, $1.64 per bushel, compared with $1.03 a year ago and $1.34 two years ago.

United States: Estimated stocks on farms March 1 this year, 789,000,000 bushels, compared with 1,116,559,000 a year ago and 910,894,000 two years ago. Price Mar. 1 to producers, 101 cents per bushel compared with 68.2 cents a year ago and 75.1 cents two years ago.

Merchantable Corn

State: The percentage of the 1916 crop which was of merchantable quality is estimated at 85 per cent, compared with 73 per cent of the 1915 crop and 87 per cent of the 1914 crop.

United States: The percentage of the 1916 crop which was of merchantable quality is estimated at 84.0 per cent, compared with 71.1 per cent of the 1915 crop and 84.5 per cent of the 1914 crops.

Uncle Sam Trying to Take Care of the Militiamen Who Lost Out by Enlisting.

Many Organizations Have Aided the Government—Women Lend Aid to Campaign

(By United Press.)

Washington, March 9.—Uncle Sam's nation-wide Employment Service, ever since the troops began to filter back from the border has scoured the land, job-hunting for the militiamen who quit their places to go south.

Militia organizations and their friends have assisted, the press has done its bit, and the response from the employing public, employment officials declare, has been unprecedented.

Employment offices at Denver, Baltimore, Helena, Kansas City, Minneapolis, Boston, New Orleans, Chicago, reported success in the job-hunting campaign. Large employers of labor as well as the private businessman, are reported enthusiastically co-operating in the work of providing for the jobless warriors.

As fast as the positions come into the employment offices the militia organizations in the various districts are notified, and the jobs listed with the commanding officers.

Even the women section of the Employment Service is lending aid in the campaign.

"There will be more jobs than there will be men to fill them."

JONES HOPEFUL OF SEASONS RESULT

MAKES NO PREDICT
Promises to be Struggle For Third Base Position—Pitching Staff Looks Good.

St. Louis, March 9.—With several promising recruits to choose from as a tonic for his Brownies, Fielder Jones will enter spring training this year with a much better prospect than a year ago. He will not have to contend with Federal leaguers, believed to be a real ball players. He will have the benefit of a year's experience with the old Brownies. His selections are bound to be better than last spring.

"Of course, I'm hoping," he said. "But you know I never make early predictions." In an offhand manner he indicated that he has unlimited faith in his team. If he can get the right sort of a start, he thinks, the Browns will be hard to catch.

The infield struggle for St. Louis berths promises to be a thriller. There is lots of dead wood hanging onto the Brown coat-tails. Derrill Pratt and Jimmy Austin, guardians of second and third bases, respectively, will have to trek pretty fast to keep up with a pace that probably will be set by some youngsters.

Third base may see more action than second. Stevenson, Western league flash, and Bigler, from the North Pennsylvania league, are expected to make things pretty interesting for Austin. Every year, however, things are made interesting for Austin on advance reports and he is still there. Rumors of the future this year also may be of the Wall street leak kind. Jones declared the pennant was lost last year at third base, so Austin will have to show at his best.

Bill Kenworthy, veteran minor league star and a former federal leaguer, is going to have another fling at the majors. He will be given a shot at second base. Kenworthy is one of the most versatile players in the game. He has been known to catch and pitch with some skill. His utility powers probably will land him a steady job even if he doesn't horn in ahead of Pratt.

Paulette will try hard to replace Sisler at first. He has a hard job in prospect. Lavan seems to have the shortfield position sewed up. Ernie Johnson, among the Federals still in the big ring, will make a try for it, but Doc Lavan is certain he'll stay. Two colt catchers, Hale and White will appear. It was the catching department that cost the St. Louis aggregation the loss of many games. The veterans Severeid and Hartly were on the job anxious to be in shape and keep the youngsters from taking their places.

Sloan, Jacobson and Yardley are the new faces in the outfield section, with Shotton, Marsans and Miller back among the last year gardeners. Yardley is touted a "mile" swatter and if he can bang them here he'll get on regular.

The pitching staff will get lots of attention from Fielder, who make his hillock performers the strongest in the Johnson circuit.

KID HERMAN IS ONE WILLING FIGHTER

New Bantam Champion Goes on Theory That he Has to Prove he is the Best Man.

HE HAS GOOD REPUTATION

Is Native of Italy and Was Formerly a Bootblack—Career is Spectacular.

BY H. C. HAMILTON.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

New York, March 9.—Peter Gullatto, otherwise known as Pete Herman, the new bantamweight champion, is off to a running start in the defense of his acquired title. He is one of the boys to whom the newspaper writers point with pride as a youth who isn't assuming, wants to fight, and is otherwise an ideal chap.

Whether he'll be able to live a life of fame without getting the swelled head and a consequent reputation for using dollars as a bed is something to be developed in the spring of old man Time. Right now he has it. It is to be hoped he sticks by it.

Pete began his life as a bootblack. Being a native of Italy, he has nothing on several thousand of his countrymen who are shining their way to fame in the land of the free and the home of the brave.

There was a bad, tough, bold character in New Orleans, where Pete gathered in the nickels, who used to come around about once a week and make a collection of nickels and dimes off the bootblacks. They all paid up like little men—Pete included.

One day Pete decided he wanted all the money he made for his very own, and he laid for the youth who came around after the dimes. He refused to shell out, with the result that the youth caught Pete one on the chin and nearly pulverized him. When Pete came to he brushed his clothes, started down the street, and when he found said youth he commenced to fight. The youth of the dime and nickel collection was sent to a hospital. From that time on Pete had his nickels and dimes and a fighting reputation. The latter was so good he decided to put it to use, which he did with such success that he has towered over the others in his class to the extent that he now is champion.

Herman is just 21. He has been fighting six years. He stands 5 feet 2 inches and weighs 116 pounds right along. Some day—off in the future—Pete is going to have a cafe New Orleans. Also, on top is going to be a gymnasium. He wants to fight just now—fight 'em all. A champion, he believes, should prove it.

Miss Beatrice Reeve and Will Carter spent last evening in Indianapolis and saw "The Folies."

Wilson Grasps Opportunity to Ap-

IS TOLD HE HAS THE POWER

Many Urged Special Session Be-
Failed in Last Congress

(By United Press.)

Washington, March 9.—A special session of congress was called this afternoon by President Wilson, to meet on Monday, April 16.

In connection with the calling of the extra session of congress President Wilson also announced his position to arm American ships immediately to protect the lives and
property of Americans on the high seas.

What the president expected to do in an emergency was a mystery
until it was announced this afternoon that he had decided to call a special session.

One of two courses were open to
him. He could call a special session and push through the armed neutrality bill or he could have acted on his own initiative under rul-
and Attorney General Gregory, that
ancient statutes do not prevent him from arming merchant vessels.

Some of his advisors suggested that an extra session quickly called
so because the army appropriation
bill failed and the government can
not pay its Mexican border forces until it passes.

Passage of the armed neutrality
bill would not only amount to a vote
world that America is unified and
patriotic and it would also provide

STONE TO BE RENOMINATED

(By United Press.)

Washington, March 9.—William J.
Stone will be renominated chairman
of the senate foreign relations com-
whip of the senate, announced today.

Since criticism of Stone's refusal to support President Wilson's armed neutrality plan has come largely
from administration sources, the
statement of Lewis was taken to indicate that an agreement had been
man.

STANLEY AUTO CO. PRERARES TO MOVE

Grand Hotel and Will be in New Location Soon

P. A. MILLER IS RETIRING

The Stanley Automobile company has leased the west half of the lower floor of the Grand hotel from P.
A. Miller, owner of the building,
and will move to the new location in
about three weeks. The Stanley
company will have a modern sales
and display room in the new location. There is considerable work
to be done on the building, such as
tearing out of partitions and getting the room in shape.

The main entrance will face the north in First street as is the present case. Mr. Miller has retired from the hotel business and is preparing to move to his farm. Joe Busehmohle will operate the hotel and will move the office to the second floor.

The Stanley company has been in Rushville about a year and has been located in the west part of the
rooms formerly occupied by the Mulno clothing store in Second street. The firm has wanted larger quarters for some time and officials of the company believe the new location will give them an ideal place.

The suit of Frank and Derby
Green against the C. I. & W. railway for $400 damages for the loss
of two horses, was taken from the county on a change of venue this
cured. Most of the morning was spent in obtaining a jury and then
the railroad suddenly discovered
things that were not heretofore
known to it and filed the motion for
a change of venue which the court granted. The court did not designate where he would send the case.
The costs of today's proceedings
were taxed against the defendant.
The Greens lost two horses and allege negligence on the part of the railroad.

The case of Johanan M. Amos against Samuel H. Colter, on a note demanding $150 was dismissed and
the costs paid.

SHOWS NOT LIKELY TO OPEN SUNDAY

Although There is Emergency Clause
On Movie Bill, no Commission Has Been Appointed

PENALTY OF $25 PROVIDED

Show Owners Maintain Fee to be Paid State Law Will Abrogate City License

Indianapolis, Ind., March 9.—
Governor Goodrich this afternoon
struck out his signature to the Mc-Cray bill legalizing Sunday moving picture shows and creating a state board of censors and announced he would veto the measure. The executive took this action following a discovery that an amendment which he
been tampered with before the bill
reached his office. The amendment was supposed to provide that shows
could not be held before two o'clock
on Sunday but the bill as it reached
the governor provided that shows
might be held any time during the day.

Whether the motion picture theaters open up here Sunday is a bit problematical. They have not gotten together on any united program of action.

Since Governor Goodrich signed
the Sunday movie bill yesterday,
local people have begun to investi-
it has an emergency clause attached making it effective with the
governor's signature, it also provides for the appointment of a commission and a penalty of $25 a
day for picture houses which operate on Sunday showing pictures
which have not been passed by the commission.

It is pointed out that the commission has not been appointed by
would be shown Sunday could have
the stamp of approval of the board
of censors because time would not permit.

It is not probable that any motion picture show owner is going to take
a chance of violating the law when
of $25 when they can wait a few weeks until the law is thoroughly understood.

Incidentally, the new law provides for a state license which will be
members who shall receive one thousand dollars a year. The law also provides that a clerk shall be employed, at a salary of nine hundred
shows in cities the size of Rushville will be five dollars a year.

Some show owners maintain that the state license fee will make it illegal for the city to collect a license fee. The shows here are paying
to collect the fee until there is a test case and the courts rule that they are not entitled to it.

The movie show men cite a recent decision of the state supreme court
as foundation for their opinion.
They say the city of Indianapolis attempted to collect a license fee for automobiles but that the supreme court ruled that the money could not be collected because automobile owners already paid a state license fee.

As interpreted here, the law provides that moving picture shows may
open at two o'clock Sunday afternoon and remain open the remainder of the day. Many were of the op-
only from two until six. However,
the original bill provided moving
picture shows could do business on Sunday. It was amended to read
that the shows could not open until two p. m.

RICHMOND WINS BY SCORE OF 50 TO 20

Championship Aspirations of Rushville Basketball Team are

Local Quintet Loses Spirit When Quaker Five Takes Commanding Lead at First

(Special to the Daily Republican.)

Richmond, Ind., March 9.—Playing time to form Richmond's championship aspirants—downed the Rushville high school five in the
opening game of the district tournament here this afternoon, 50 to 20.

Rushville never had a chance and
the team was beaten from the first
whistle. Richmond started in on the
jump and soon had a commanding
lead which seemed to take the spirit
out of the Rushville team. The first half ended 32 to 8 in favor of Richmond.

With everything favorable to Richmond that team took advantage
of every opportunity. The only drawback to the Richmond team and
fans was the referee, E. C. Bishop
his work in past games on the
when the fans and team started "to
ride" him he called two fouls on the
team. When Rushville took advan-
crowd settled down and left the official alone.

Rushville got off to a bad start.
The team seemed unable to get started and despite close guarding Oneal, Richmond star forward, succeeded in getting nine field goals.
Late in the last half Richmond sent
in all of its substitutes. There appears to be little doubt now but that Richmond will win the tournament.
The lineup and summary:

10,000 ADVERTISING MEN ARE EXPECTED

They Will Outline Plans Not Only to Promote But to Compel Ad-

(By United Press.)

St. Louis, Mar. 9.—Ten thousand advertising men at the national convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the world here
in June will outline plans not only
to promote, but to compel absolute
honesty in advertising, both among
newspapers and advertisers themselves in the United States.

The groundwork, the advertising men feel, has been laid by their several year's campaign advocating honesty in advertising. A number of newspapers have inaugurated
honest advertising campaigns and
much progress, the organization
feels, has been made. Now the plan will be to go out and actively
fight dishonest advertising on a national basis.

The Club's National vigilance
committee has done a lot of this work already, but this will be increased and developed, the committee forming the basis for the national campaign for honesty in advertising.

VICIOUSLY ASSAILS PRESIDENT WILSON

Berliner Tageblatt Pictures America
as Gleeeful Beneficiary at Europe's Deathbed

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Berlin, (Via Wireless), March 9—Picturing America as "the gleeful beneficiary at the deathbed of European civilization," the Berliner Tageblatt viciously assailed President Wilson's abrupt change of
front from his speech of December
to his present attitude as revealed in his inaugural address.

"Some of the state leaders of belligerent or of neutrals have spoken
newspaper asserted. "His intention
to change the idea of neutrality is evident from each successive speech."
"This is proved in the last speech
by his statement that 'America may possibly be forced to take an active part in the fight.'"

The Tageblatt asserted the "time has passed for argument."

The funeral services of Mrs. Margaret Gebhart, wife of John W. Geb-
hart, who died of apoplexy Tuesday
night at her home on the Ed Adkins farm west of Carthage, were
o'clock at the late residence and
burial took place in Walnut Ridge cemetery.

TO LOCATE PLANT IF GROWERS HELP

Whether Reid, Murdoch & Co.,

This Season, Station Will be Erected, it is Stated

Whether Reid, Murdoch and company builds a catsup factory here
depends altogether on the reception
the farmers of Rush county give the project.

A representative of the firm,
which is a Chicago wholesale grocery house manufacturing its own
canned goods, is driving over Rush
county in an automobile investigating conditions, and if the proper cooperation is found among the farmers, a factory will be built here
at once.

In other words, speaking in terms of co-operation, if the company can
contract for an acreage of tomatoes
ranging from a hundred and fifty to
two hundred, they will locate a plant in or near Rushville.

Speaking today of the proposed enterprise, W. H. Deboer who is here making an investigation, said that Reid, Murdoch and company was
very anxious to locate a station
here because of the fine soil and the prosperous condition of the farmers.

The contract which the firm asks
the farmer to sign agrees to pay the
producer of the tomatoes ten dollars
a ton and the farmer furnishes only
his land and his labor. The company agrees to furnish all the toma-
toe seeds necessary for the acreage
and will also provide the crates in which to haul them.

Mr. Lowe will be here tomorrow and an endeavor will be made to
close some contracts, it is thought.
There will be a big sale in Rush-
ville tomorrow, which leads them to believe that they can reach many
any number of acres, some being as low as two and others as high as twenty.

Mr. Deboer said the firm would be willing to take a chance the first
year on a contract of one hundred
and fifty acres, because the business could be increased as the years go by. The average tomato yield Mr. Deboer said, was six to eight tons an acre, but after one
day's trip through Rush county, he feels sure that the average crop here
would be from eight to ten tons to the acre.

The Reid, Murdoch and company
cans much of its products, including cabbage, pickles, tomatoes and other vegetables. The firm is desirous of increasing its catsup output. Mr.
Deboer says the concern has forty-
seven pickle stations in Wisconsin, Indiana and Michigan and that they
years.

One of the firm's largest plants is at Pierceton, Ind., near Warsaw, where they now have contracted for
this year eight hundred acres of tomatoes, two hundred acres of cabbage and two hundred acres of
pickles. They have a plant valued at about $150,000 at Pierceton and their payroll during August, September and October runs from $1,- 000 to $1,600 a week. From one hundred to one hundred and fifty persons are employed.

Mr. Deboer met with a good response from the farmers he has already interviewed. He found many
who were willing to raise from one
to three acres. He also discovered that many Rush county farmers
were already familiar with the opportunities offered in raising the
crop for a canning factory. He found that Lem Ward, for instance,
made $146 last year off of three acres.

Amusements

The Lyric offers the feature picture "Race Suicide" for the program tonight. It is a six act feature and is said to attempt a solution of an interesting problem. Ormi Hawley, Earl Metcalf and Kempton Green are featured.

The lives of the denizens of the woods are revealed in their true colors in the Mutual feature "The Strength of Donald McKenzie" shown at the Gem tonight. William Russell is featured. Mr. Russell as "Donald McKenzie," the poet nature man has a role for which he is ideally fitted and to which he adds the force of his personality and his powerful acting. Already he is recognized as a screen actor second to

"The Foolish Virgin" is the title of the feature drama at the Princess tonight. Clara Kimball Young is featured. The author is Thomas Dixon, who wrote "The Birth of a Nation." The story of "The Foolish Virgin" is intensely dramatic in character and offers Miss Young unlimited opportunities to display every phase of her notable talents. The story is replete with action and unusually well adapted to the requirements of the motion picture camera. The heroine of "The Foolish Virgin" is Mary Adams, a young school teacher, who, when not engaged in her work, dreams of the romantic days when the world was peopled by knights and beautiful ladies in distress. Mary Adams has an awakening which furnishes one of the dramatic incidents of the picture.

On Tuesday and Wednesday nights, and Wednesday matinee, March 13 and 14, David Warfield, beloved of all true lovers of the best in theatrical fields, will offer for two nights and Wednesday matinee. David Belasco's great revival of "The Music Master" at English's Opera House, Indianapolis. It was in "The Music Master" that the great American player made his most pronounced success, and in which he is appearing everywhere this season, in the revival, to packed houses.

Mr. Warfield plays the title role of "The Music Master" with an exquisite tenderness and pathos which has made the characterization one of the truly great pieces of acting in modern stage creations.

An excellent company has been assembled by Mr. Belasco in support of Mr. Warfield. The entire production of course bears the stamp of finish and distinction carried by all Belasco productions.

Mail orders for seats for this important attraction are being received now at English's, and will be

The Lyman H. Howe Travel Pictures will fill a return engagement at English's Opera House on Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, March 15, 16, 17 and 18, with matinees given on Saturday and Sunday. The series of Howe pictures this season is especially great. Some of the countries shown are the Hawaiian Islands, with surf bathing at Wai-ki-ki Beach and a railroad ride through the islands features, as well as a trip to the famous active volcano of Manuna Loa.

PLAN EXPOSITION.

Washington, March 9.—Governors from many states gathered here today to consider plans for the establishment in Washington of a permanent States' exposition of state industrial products.

Endorsement of the plan is expected. That action probably will be followed by the introduction in the various state legislatures of bills providing the necessary appropriations.

PUT CREAM IN NOSE AND STOP CATARRH

Tells How To Open Clogged Nostrils and End Head-Colds.

You feel fine in a few moments. Your cold in head or catarrh will be gone. Your clogged nostrils will open. The air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more dullness, headache, no hawking, snuffing, mucous discharges or dryness; no struggling for breath at night.

Tell your druggist you want a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream in your nostrils, let it penetrate through every air passage of the head; soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane, and relief comes instantly. It is just what every cold and catarrh sufferer needs. Don't stay, stuffed-up and miserable.

You have no doubt discovered the work for which you are best suited. Perhaps you are fortunate enough to see a bright future before you. If not, then you are making plans to change your surroundings, no doubt. Any rate most of us are working for some firm at the present time. Are any of us abusing the firm which is paying us our salary—which is the means to our daily bread? Somehow that's a habit which a number of people have. They are inclined to speak unfavorably of their position. As a wise man once said, "If you are dissatisfied with your position, resign. Then go outside and cast as many aspersions upon the firm as you wish." Going outside is not always practicable. I know, but if we must work for a man let us work for him with the best grace possible.

Then too, today it is often hard to progress and still remain perfectly self-respecting. However, I really believe that if you start out refusing to do anything underhanded or low that it will seldom be asked of you. The first time, however, that you deviate from the straight path you have revealed your own weakness, and you will probably be expected to do so again.

Under normal conditions you expect your employer to be fair to you. Are you fair to him? We all know that unless we have a certain amount of recreation or mental diversion that our work will suffer. Some firms, I know, desire their people to work so constantly that it is almost impossible to steal a few hours or an evening or holiday for the essential recreation. These firms are in the minority, however, and most employers realize that a period of relaxation eventually means greater returns.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in uric acid, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

That Word "Traitor."

There are always a few hot-headed individuals who impugn men's motives when they have no actual knowledge of what gave rise to any given action. Certain newspapers and a few bombastic individuals in many cities of the United States have condemned the twelve United States senators who opposed the armed neutrality bill and the resolution giving President Wilson "unlimited power" to deal with the international crisis while congress was not in session.

Undoubtedly the dozen senators who, through the unlimited debate rule, were enabled to prevent the majority of the senate ruling, felt that they were doing the patriotic thing by voting as they did. But their critics have seen fit to call them "traitors." The late Mr. Webster defined a "traitor" as "one who violates his allegiance and betrays his country."

It is doubtless the case that those who have been so freely flinging that simple little word about never realized just how serious a charge it is.
We hold no brief for Senator LaFollette, but it hardly seems just to place him in the class with Benedict Arnold. We are not at war with Germany or any other nation on the face of the globe. It is difficult to see how the senator from Wisconsin has betrayed his country because he is an extreme pacifist and does not favor armed neutrality which would in a measure be a well defined step in the direction of war. It is not our intention to convey the thought that we should not defend our rights at sea, but there is none to deny that the arming of merchant-ships is an invitation for attack.

The fault seems to lie with the senate's rules. The government is ruled by the majority. But in the case of the United States senate, a handful of men could hold off what was apparently the nation's will. Some senators opposed the armed neutrality bill not so much because they were pacifists but because they were jealous of the prorogatives of congress. Whenever all the power is lodged in the head of the government, American institutions will fall and congress might as well close up shop and go home.
For congress to have given President Wilson unlimited power to deal with the international crisis would have been a grievous error.

In his demand for unlimited power in dealing with foreign affairs, President Wilson furnished the strongest argument in favor of an extraordinary session of congress.
In his opening sentence he declared

A SAFE TEST

For those who are in need of a remedy for kidney troubles and backache, it is a good plan to try Doan's Kidney Pills. They are strongly recommended by Rushville people.

Mrs. Lizzie Boren, 840 W. 9th St., Rushville, says: "About six years ago I began to have trouble with my kidneys. The kidney secretions were very annoying in passage and the trouble kept getting worse.
Doctors said it was gravel, but none of them ever did me any good. A short time ago I heard of how someone else was cured by Doan's Kidney Pills, so I got a box at Wol-cott's Drug Store. They helped me and I kept on using them. I have taken four boxes so far and the pain has left and I feel a great deal better."

that 'we are moving through critical times during which it seems to me to be my duty to keep in close touch with the houses of Congress, so that neither counsel nor action shall run at cross purposes between us.' Later in his address, as an excuse for asking plenary power, he said that "it would take an unusual time to assemble and organize the congress which is to succeed" the one closing Sunday.

Since the constitution vests in congress alone the power to declare war, and since it is also true that we are passing through critical times during which it is the president's duty to keep in close touch with congress, there is every reason why the new congress should be immediately convened.

The demand for plenary power is in direct conflict with the plain intent of the constitution, which expressly provides that when extraordinary occasions arise, the president may convene either or both houses of congress. Instead of pursuing the policy indicated by the constitution which he is sworn to uphold President Wilson takes a course which the constitution was designed to prevent—seeks to supplant representative government by establishing what would be to all intents and purposes a dictatorship.

Undoubtedly the president seeks this with the highest motives. Undoubtedly he thinks he could run this government better if there were no legislative or judicial departments but all power were his own.
As to the sincerity of his demands there can be no question, but the wisdom of his course will be questioned by all those persons who still believe in the superiority of the republican form of government and who have not lost confidence in the men they have chosen to represent in the senate and house of representatives.

Europe is today embroiled in a war brought on as a result of centralization of power. May America escape that peril!

Defending Short Skirts.

Here's a minister who has come to the defense of the much maligned and much worn short skirt! He is the Rev. Allen A. Stockdale of the First Congregational church of Toledo, O., Opening the Ohio Shoe Dealers convention, he spoke on "Ministerial Views of Women's Styles." Listen to what he has to say.

"Every woman fears the day when she begins to look old. Any sane, intelligent style that gives her youth is a genuine benefit to the world. There is no reason to decry a style that follows the lines that God himself has made. The short skirt is far more sane than the long skirts that dragged in the dirt of the street in former years. And shoes have entered the realm of art.

"Some women make freaks of themselves and we men look at them when they go by just as we would look at a cage of monkeys. These women think they have made a tremendous hit but we were not admiring them at all."

DO YOU THINK THAT YOUR BOY NEEDS TO HAVE DOOR OPENED?

By MRS. MAX WEST
(Written for United Press.)
Thin arms and legs, putty colored skin and listless manner in a child usually indicate that he needs to have the door opened for him. He needs to play in the sunshine.

He ought to have some pets—chickens, or pigeons or rabbits; he should have a garden plot and tools all his own, with some one to show him how to use them. He should have a swing, a teeter board, a sand pile, a ladder to climb if there are no trees available.

He should play out summer and winter, in the rain and in the snow if he wants to. He is starving for fresh air and exercise and if you will open the door to him you will do more for him than any doctor in the land could do. His appetite will come up.

You must give him plenty of good food to eat, and let him sleep till he wakes, put his bed out on the poreh if there is one, and if not perhaps you can have one built.

Give him a good bath all over with warm water and soap at least twice a week, and a rub-down every morning with a towel wrung as dry as you can make it out of cold water.

If you do these things for a year you won't know him for the same

OLD COMBINATION BACK FOR BRAVES

Fine Pitching Staff, Energetic Infield and Snappy Outfield Again in

TEAM NOW AT MIAMI, FLA.

Stalling Believes He Will be Up in the Race From the Very Start This Year.

(By United Press.)

Boston, March 9.—The same sterling pitching staff, the same energetic infield, and the same snappy, punchy outfield, probably will be seen in action for the Braves again this year.

There are certain to be a few changes, but for the most part the Braves will be just as they finished a year ago. Such a solidity of purpose, a bulwark of defense, and an angle of attack have been developed that to tear away part of the machine would be to damage it badly, in the opinion of George Stallings.
He made a game fight a year ago and he figures he will be able to deliver the same punch again this year.

The catching staff again will depend upon Hank Gowdy, the backstop who played with such amazing skill during the world's series of 1915. He will have as assistants Blackburn, a good youngster, and Tragesser. Ricco will be given a tryout, but is not expected to horn in ahead of the others.

Stallings remarked a short time ago that he has heard from Bill James and that the pitching star believes he can get his arm into shape for a season this summer. James was useless in the last campaign, but was kept on in the hope that he would develop something. So far it has been a hope, but he will be given plenty of time to get in shape this spring.

Dick Rudolph, Nehf, Hughes, Ragan, Tyler, and Davis are expected to hold up most of the pitching. This staff is plenty for most any club.
Stallings, in fact, is rated by many to be in a position to give the Giants a stronger battle for the pennant than any manager in the league.

Collins, Magee and Wilhoit, the outfield which did the heavy work last year, seems to have the call, but Joe Kelly, obtained from Chicago in the trade which sent Fred Mitchell to that city, a promising man has been added. Kelly has had major league experience. He will have to show the goods if he sticks. Larry

14 Cent Corn

Fred Suhre of Columbus grew 530 bushels of shelled corn on five acres, or an average of 106 bushels per acre, at a cost of only 14 cents a bushel, and won the 1916 Corn Championship of Indiana.

SUHRE FARM RESULTS, 1916

Corn fertilized with Swift's Fertilizer, containing ammonia, phosphoric acid and potash, produced an increase per acre over the unfertilized of 19 bu.
Corn fertilized with only acid phosphate produced an increase per acre over the unfertilized of 9 bu.

Norris McHenry, 1914 State Champion Corn Grower of Indiana, had the following results on two five-acre plots:

Where Swift's Fertilizer was used, the average yield per acre was 112.1 bu.
Where competitors' fertilizer was used, the average yield per acre was 93.1 bu.

Additional average yield per acre where Swift's Fertilizer was used 19 bu.

The results from the Suhre and McHenry farms prove that Swift's Fertilizers are the best, and that Swift's Fertilizer containing ammonia is the most profitable.

THREE LAWS TO AID TUBERCULOSIS WAR

One Passed By Legislature Makes Referendum To See If County Wants Sanatorium

Indianapolis, March 9.—Of great significance to the campaign against tuberculosis in the counties of Indiana is the recent passage of three bills aiding the movement. These measures worked out by the Legislative Committee of the Indiana Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis are available not only for the counties but for such as may be willing to undertake the care of their tuberculosis citizens.

In addition to the excellent county tuberculosis sanatorium law under which Indiana has already secured three good sanatoriums, the county tuberculosis workers will find in their hands a new tool—county referendum on sanatorium building. A majority of the voters at any regular election having approved a county tuberculosis sanatorium proposition, will have the satisfaction of having provision made by the commissioners for the care of their tuberculosis. This applies not to the poor especially, for the institution will require that where possible patients shall pay the cost of service rendered to them. It is hoped that this bill will enable the larger counties of Indiana to secure sanatoriums. The smaller counties will doubtless avoid the larger overhead cost of maintaining individual institutions by building district sanatoriums as the counties of Noble, DeKalb, Steuben and Lagrange are now preparing to do. The old law makes careful provision for the establishing of these district sanatoriums.

Other bills that would have aided the anti-tuberculosis campaign had they become laws, those providing for the training of tuberculosis nurses in county sanatoriums for the establishing of whole time county health officers, for the medical inspection of school children and for state aiding to county tuberculosis sanatoriums. These are matters which must await the action of another legislature.

DON'T SUFFER WITH NEURALGIA

Musterole Gives Delicious Comfort

When those sharp pains go shooting through your head, when your skull seems as if it would split, just rub a little Musterole on the temples and neck. It draws out the inflammation, soothes away the pain, usually giving quick relief.

LADY COPS HAVE CINCH IN LONDON

London, Feb. 20.—(By Mail).—“Wanted; Ladies to act as policemen; must be well educated, and not afraid of work; salary $6 a week.”

It's no easy matter for a lady to become a “bobby” in London. After she has assured the authorities that she's a “perfect lady,” and a demon for work, she must go through a severe course of sprouts before she can start drawing down her six per.

Here's the test:

Report for roll-call at 9:30 every morning of the week. Start at once on patrol work, and later go on duty at the police station. In the afternoon more patrol work and attendance at the childrens court. From 4 to 5 instructions from inspectors in special duties. From 8 to 10 more patrol work to finish up the day.

The lucky ones who pass the test are then sent to the munitions factories.

WOMAN SENDS HER HUBBY TO COLLEGE

Insists That he Knows Enough to Earn More Than She Does—Believes in Efficiency.

SHE IS AN EXPERT DESIGNER

San Francisco, March 9.—Mrs. Esther Bereovitz Kehoe is sending her husband to college today because she believes in business efficiency. She is a designer for a tailoring company.

If a woman discovers she can earn more than her husband, says Mrs. Kehoe, the husband should be educated to such an extent that his earning ability is equal to that of his wife. And while hubby is getting this education, wife should support the family, she believes.

“The trouble with most American women is that they don't look at matters in a practical, business-like way. With European women, and I am one, it is different. I learned my lesson in Roumania. When I was a child I found it necessary to make my way, but in Roumania a woman cannot earn her own living. So my brother and I went to Paris, where I learned designing.”

AS A U. S. MARINE.

St. Louis, March 9.—Although Shakespeare said “there is nothing in a name,” Will B. Ready of 6033 Cates Avenue, this city, has proved an exception to the rule by offering his service as a fighter in the United States Marines.

Ready, whose name sounds like a slogan for national preparedness weighs 175 pounds and is over 6 feet tall. He is pronounced a marvel of strength by physical examiners, although a few months under the required military age. He was requested to obtain the consent of his parents or defer his enlistment.

Will B. Ready says he will be ready when his parents and the U. S. Marines say so.

Moline-Universal Tractor A PROVEN SUCCESS

The Moline-Universal is the ideal tractor for the average size farm. It pulls the usual five-horse load—will do as much work as seven horses, owing to its greater speed and endurance. It requires less space than one horse and less care than one horse. It can be used for plowing, harrowing, planting, cultivating, mowing, haying and harvesting—in fact, all field work.

The Moline-Universal is easier to handle than a team of horses, weighs about the same, turns in a 16-foot circle and will back with the implement attached. It is compact, simple, close-coupled, a wonderful puller and carries no dead weight. And best of all, it is operated from the seat of the implement attached. This permits one man to operate both tractor and implement, and removes him from any possible vibration of the engine.

Not An Experiment

Every feature of the Moline-Universal has been given the careful, earnest study of experienced tractor engineers.

That Telltale Tea

“How old is your big sister?” asked a caller of a little girl who was entertaining him in a Washington home until said big sister came in.

against high prices and the Spring of 1917 is the time to use this weapon to your advantage. Everything you have to buy is away above normal price and only by shrewd buying can you overcome this condition.

I have bought buggies on which I could make a nice profit by re-selling them at present wholesale prices, but they will be sold to the buggy users of this locality at a price based on the market they were bought on, which means a saving of at least $10.00 to $15.00 on each job.

I want your vehicle business and if the best of standard makes of vehicles at prices that mean $10.00 to $15.00 saved will get it, I am sure going to get it. Every buggy guaranteed—they have to be right—I am not satisfied unless my customers are. Every customer must be a friend and a booster for my buggies. Some dealers say I cannot live and sell buggies at my prices. (I will let you know when to send flowers.) In the meantime save yourself some money by buying your buggies of a man who thinks just as much of making friends as he does of making sales. STYLES FOR CHILDREN

The inclination just now is toward the simplest lines, and bloomers are included, as a matter of course, in frocks, not only for the littlest girl, but for her elder sister, who may be almost in her teens.

Chambray, Scotch ginghams, linens, batistes and lawns are the favorite fabrics. Sometimes there is a yoke, to which the material is gathered and held in position by rows by smocking in colored threads. It has taken some time for this form of decoration to become popular in this country. For many years it has been a favorite means of ornamentation in England and, to a less extent, in France.

The type of smock that fastens on either shoulder and is slipped over the head is shown for both little boys and girls. In the garment for the former the smock is cut much shorter than when it is for the girl, and the bloomers are not as full as those worn by the latter.

While white remains the only thing considered in connection with the clothes of infants, color has crept into the little dresses, coats and hats of children who have entered their second or third year. Even the standard pale blue and pale pink now have rivals in such shades as maize, old blue and rose. Now and then one meets a light green color or a pale lavender, but on the whole these have not a very large representation in juvenile clothes.

The matter of long waist or short waist is one that the mother may decide for her child, according to the former's preference. The very little girls wear yoke dresses, but those who have attained as many as five years or more wear long waisted frocks with a belt. On the whole, perhaps these are preferred, excepting for the party frock, which has a short waist, very fluffy skirt and a sash finish.

What is prettier than the mushroom shape for a little girl's hat? Not only can it be easily made by the unskilled mother, but it will be assured a second and even a third season, for the mushroom never goes out of style in juvenile millinery.

No matter how clever you are with the needle, it is always the best plan to buy the shape in the shop, then cover it with the same material used for the little girl's coat.

To begin covering cut a straight piece of goods wide enough to cover both top and bottom of the brim and long enough to go around the lower and larger edge. Allow several inches on both dimensions.

Sew the ends together on the wrong side, run white basting line through the center (use silk thread if the material is silk or velvet), then turn in the top edge on the wrong side and gather with tiny stitches until you have made it tight enough to fit snugly around the base of the crown. Sew it there after adjusting the gathers.

The top of the crown is covered by a circular piece of goods, no care being taken of the finish as it will

Now Fashion Has Put the Indian Sign on the Women

Possibilities of Blankets Woven in Guatemala by Maya Tribe Are Limitless Because They Offer All Sorts of Opportunities to be Put to New and Unheard of Uses. Seems Sort of Like Taking Candy From a Child to be Taking Fashions From Indians When Blankets and a String of Beads Are All They Have.

By MARGARET MASON

Maya, Oh Maya, my Indian maid, You put all the Paris belles quite in the shade;

Your colorful blanket so gaudy and rich,

They've taken for mantles, skirts, linings and such;

And other new fashions now flicker and fade

Are the gay garments by Indian made.

New York, March 9.—And now Fashion has put the Indian sign on us!

Seems sort of like taking candy from a child to take our fashions from the Indians when about all the poor things have to their backs is a blanket and a string of beads.

But oh, these gorgeous hues blankets that the Maya Indians weave in Guatemala are much too beautiful to be wasted on the primitive fastnesses of Central America.

The possibilities of an ordinary blanket seem exhausted after you have used it as covering for body, bed or horse. The possibilities of the Maya blankets, loosely woven of pure wool and dyed in vivid and diverse stripes are almost limitless.

The Mayas know how to make 'em but the fashions experts know how to use 'em, as is evidenced by a recent showing of Maya models in a famous New York and Philadelphia department store.

Loose wraps of oyster white and bisque shantung are lined through-out with the gorgeous Maya blankets. Beach and summer suits of white, grey and ecru silk have vivid Maya blanket touches on collar, cuffs, pockets and lapels. Sport skirts entirely evolved from Maya blankets, with their rainbow bars of color, make you long to be behind the bars.

These blankets as well as the embroideries which resemble the primitive embroideries of the Russian peasants are all made by the Mayas on hand looms and because the looms are very narrow the blankets are all made in half widths with a trimming touches the embroideries central seam.

Next to the blankets as attractive find place and are used on costumes in the same manner as collars, cuffs and pockets. The embroideries also make stunning table and cushion covers and the bands of embroidery are used effectively as borders on parasols, hat trimmings, hand bags and blouse adornments.

Silken scarfs, soft of weave and color, another product of the Maya hand looms, are fashioned into stunning blouses, girdles and are

be hidden. Next a bias piece of material is cut long enough to exactly fit the sides of the crown as a band after the slanting ends have been joined. This is generally finished before being sewed on the crown, either by stitching or cording.

The trimming should be extremely simple. A silk cord, with tassels tied on one side, or one of the new crocheted chain cords ending in balls covered with the coat's material makes a good finish.

TO MAKE A TEA-BOY.

If one has a large server, use that for a stationary try—for the upper part; if not, cleats nailed around the edge of stand will serve to protect dishes from sliding. Then nail three cleats about four

also used in their natural state to be knotted around fair shoulders or hat crowns.

Not all of the Maya blankets, scarfs and embroideries are in riotous colorings either. These wonderful aborigines of Central America have shown themselves most considerate of the fashionable wants of 1917 American matrons and bachelor maids of years of discretion and so they have almost as great an output of embroideries done entirely in black and white or grey and white, blankets striped in the same neutral montones and scarfs woven in plaids and stripes of the same. Therefore everyone can be smart and all Mayed up and still cling to her color schemes of life.

All the blankets, scarfs and large pieces of embroidery shown on the Maya models are original pieces brought direct from the Indian tribes of Guatemala but the most of the embroidery bandings are modern Manhattan manipulations of Maya methods, designs and colorings.

You can now buy ribbons at the ribbon counter and embroidery bandings at the trimmings counter that will furnish up your last summer suit to the last word in modish Mayanish.

Silks by the yard in Maya designs and colorings are also being manufactured and stockings embroidered in Indian symbols are by no means at the foot of the Maya list of fashionable fads. The ribbons and embroidered bands manufactured here are really beautiful and almost defy detection when placed side by side with Indian originals.

But if you want a blanket touch much as I hate to be a wet blanket I am constrained to tell you that you'll have to go to Guatemala for it. Or rather the house that is making Maya specialties will have to import one for you. It strikes me it would be almost as simple to import a Maya instead. Think how handy it would be to have a little Maya in your home busily weaving your blankets for you while you wait.

The main point is that we have to be good Indians this season. At present a Maya costume is more swaggar than a Poiret model, a Maya bonnet than a Georgette chapeau. At the beginning of the war Paris trembled lest New York usurp her laurels as the fashion center of the world. Who could have dreamed that her mantle of fashionable greatness would have descended on Guatemala in Central America and in descending turn into an Indian blanket.

These are authentic quotations from the pamphlet on babies by Dr. L. Emmett Holt of Columbia University and Dr. Henry L. K. Shaw of Union University.

At 12 months the baby should be weaned from the bottle and taught to drink milk from a cup. Four cups daily. He may also have cereals twice a day. They should be thoroughly cooked and strained. During his second year he should have four meals a day at 6 and 10 a. m.; and 2 and 6 p. m. He should have no time between meals for water, but water between meals.

INVENTOR OF THE ZEPPELIN IS DEAD

Famous German Count, Who Didn't

Old Succumbs

SQUANDERS HIS FORTUNE

First Balloon Ascension Made in
Wealthy Family

London, March 9.—Count Zeppelin, inventor of the airship that bears his name, is dead, according to a dispatch from Berlin. According to a Berlin telegram transmitted by an Amsterdam correspondent, Count Zeppelin died yesterday at Charlottenburg, near Berlin, from pneumonia.

Count Ferdinand Zeppelin became famous at the age of 70 as the builder of the world's first practical dirigible balloon. On his seventy-fifth birthday he navigated his twentieth airship to celebrate the occasion. But before he had achieved fame he had devoted a half century of his life, exhausted his personal fortune of $750,000 and sacrificed a brilliant career as a German cavalry leader, in conquering the air.

Emperor William recently proclaimed Count Zeppelin to be "the greatest German of the twentieth century." As a token of appreciation he conferred upon him the exalted Order of the Black Eagle, the highest honor in the Emperor's power.

It was in the United States that Count Zeppelin made his first balloon ascension. It occurred while he was following Gen. Carl Schurz in the civil war as a military observer for the German Army. A captive balloon in use for military observations by Union troops greatly interested the young German officer, and he was taken up in it in 1863.

Scion of a wealthy family of ancient lineage, Count Zeppelin was born in Constance, Baden, in 1838. As a youth he was trained for a soldier's career. He fought through the Austro-Prussian and the Franco-Prussian wars, and is said to have been the first German soldier to cross the frontier into France in the last-named conflict. Serving in the German cavalry for three decades, he rose to a rank of general when 42 years old. He retired ten years later, a distinguished soldier, to devote all his time to the problem of aeronautics.

He began to study and experiment soon after arriving in Germany from the American civil war. Except for the time demanded in routine military duties, for the time spent in fighting two wars, and for a year spent in honeymooning with his bride, who was a girl of the German nobility, he spent the remainder of his life in building flying contrivances that, for the most part, refused to fly.

From a wealthy nobleman owning vast estates, Count Zeppelin was gradually reduced to an aristocratic mechanic living in a humble cottage on an allowance supplied by his friends. He met many narrow escapes from death, and disaster repeatedly overtook his airships. These became so frequent that pert paragraphs began to appear in the German press in ridicule of his efforts.

Then in a day the tide turned. He electrified a skeptical world in 1908 by staying aloft for thirty-seven hours in the fifth airship he had built and by sailing it in a straight course for a distance of nearly 900 miles. Emperor William, and all Germany in fact, hailed him as the "conqueror of the air."

Columbus, O., March 9.—Gov. ernor Cox's secretary, Charles E. Morris, foretells the weather every day by his squirrel barometer, and he isn't nutty either. He says if he sees the bushy tails carrying provisions up to their houses when he goes to work in the morning he looks out for a storm next day, but if it's to be fair weather the squirrels stay down on the ground.

DIPLOMATESS TO WED IN WASHINGTON

Horace Seymour.

SHORTLY AFTER EASTER

Washington, March 9.—The world sat up and took notice when Miss Violet Erskine of London was appointed secretary to the British Embassy here. It was the first official appearance of a woman in the diplomatic circles of the world. Early next month, it is learned today, she will desert diplomacy for matrimony.

Miss Erskine will wed Horace Seymour, third secretary of the British Embassy in Washington, some day soon after Easter Sunday, April 8. Miss Erskine is the daughter of the late Thomas Erskine, who was British Consul General in New Orleans. She is a handsome young woman, blonde, graceful and charming, and a great favorite with Sir Cecil and Lady Spring-Rice. She won her appointment through her exceptional knowledge of customs and American institutions.

The wedding, it is presumed, will take place at the embassy. The original plan was for a wedding trip to England, but whether that will be taken is not known at this time.

Notice to Bidders

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned Board of Commissioners of the county of Rush and State of Indiana will receive sealed proposals up until 2 o'clock p. m. on Monday, April 2d, 1917.

for the purpose of supplies for the Poor Farm of Rush county, Indiana, for three months as per requisition of superintendent of said institution now on file in the county auditor's office of Rush county, Indiana.

"Your Flag and My Flag" Is Sweeping the Country

Has Wilbur D. Nesbit written a new national anthem in his poem
"Your Flag and My Flag?" The simple, stirring verses are now sweeping the country, and one enthusiastic admirer pronounces them the best expression of American sentiment since Drake wrote his famous poem beginning "When Freedom from her mountain height." Still others declare it to be more American in its expression and more in tune with national thought of today than "The Star Spangled Banner" or even "America." Without entering into a discussion of its merits as compared with other national songs and poems, it is interesting to note that no poem published in recent years has so thoroughly taken hold of the American people.
The first stanza may be quoted:

"Your flag and my flag—
And how it flies today
In your land and my land
And half a world away!
Rose-red and blood-red

The stripes forever gleam;

Snow-white and soul-white—

The good forefathers' dream.

Sky-blue and true-blue, with stars
to gleam aright—

The gloried guidon of the day, a shelter through the night."

Public speakers in every state of the union have been, and are, swaying their audiences with Nesbit's flag verses as part of their speeches.
School children everywhere are learning it. It is being taught in the public and parochial schools of Chicago and elsewhere. It has appeared in the Congressional Record several times, and governors of various states have used it as their flag day proclamations. Hardly a week passes that some musician does not send Mr. Nesbit a suggested musical setting for the poem, but as yet the right composition has not been found.

Mr. Nesbit for years was known as one of America's foremost magazine and newspaper writers, and within the past seven years he has taken his place as one of three leading writers of advertising in America. He is vice-president of the Machin Advertising Company, of Chicago and New York. He is now writing and supervising copy for such concerns as The B. F. Goodrich Co., Akron, O.; The Baltimore & Ohio R.
R.; The Carnation Milk Products
Co., Seattle, Wash.; Wilson & Co., Chicago; The Ashland Mfg. Co., Chicago; Grinnell Gloves; The Haynes Automobile Company, Kokomo; The Lowe Bros. Paint Co., Dayton, O.; The Thread Mills Co., Chicago; The Cheney Talking Machine Co.; and Marshall Field & Co., wholesale, Chicago. Hundreds of thousands of dollars are spent in newspapers, magazines and farm papers by these advertisers in copy written by Mr. Nesbit.

His years of training in newspaper writing gave him the experience and the knowledge of how to make whatever he writes touch a responsive chord in the reader and stir his mind to action to do whatever Mr.
Nesbit's pen so deftly points the way.

"The flag verses," Mr. Nesbit says, "are, in a certain sense, an advertisement for the American flag. They express what I think is in the heart of every American concerning his country's banner. Of course, it is gratifying to know that so many other people agree with the sentiment in the verse."

P. F. Volland & Co., Mr. Nesbit's publishers of Chicago and New York, were quick to see the wide demand the flag poem would create, and have published it as a hand-colored motto, also as a large poster-size motto for schools, business offices, etc., and as a steel-engraved postcard. In its postcard form it first appeared when the state militia was mobilized on the Mexican border, and it was the favorite of the soldier boys as a missive to the folks at home.

Backache

In spite of the best care one takes of oneself, any part of the human machine is liable to become out of order. The most important organs are the stomach, heart and kidneys.

The kidneys are the scavengers and they work day and night in separating the poisons from the blood. It is only reasonable to believe that they are liable to derangement. Their signals of distress however, are easily recognized and include such symptoms as backache, depression, drowsiness, irritability, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic twinges, droopy, gout.

"The very best way to restore the kidneys to their normal state of health," says Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., "is to drink plenty of pure water and obtain from your favorite pharmacy a small amount of Anuric (double strength), which is dispensed by most every druggist." Anuric is inexpensive and should be taken before meals. You will find Anuric more potent than lithia, dissolving uric acid almost as water does sugar.

A new kind of cigarette enjoyment

Up to lately, smokers have been content if a cigarette tasted all right. But this Chesterfield Cigarette, besides pleasing the taste, does a new and important thing for smokers—Chesterfields let you know you are smoking—they “SATISFY”! And yet, they’re mild!

The blend does it—it’s the new proportioning of high-quality tobaccos. Such costly imported and domestic tobaccos have never yet been blended in any cigarette at anywhere near the price. And the blend can’t be copied.

It takes the cigarette itself to prove all this. So try Chesterfields. Today.

National Tuberculosis Association Announces Result of Campaign Last Year.

Slogan of Campaign Realized—Tremendous Advance Seen Over Past Years.

BY GEORGE MARTIN
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
New York, March 9.—The National Tuberculosis Association announced today that the holiday sale of Red Cross Christmas seals had raised $1,000,000 for the tuberculosis campaign.

“Without the co-operation of the newspapers these tremendous results from the Red Cross seal sale would have been impossible,” said Dr. Charles J. Hatfield.

The Association is proud of the fact that the slogan of the campaign “on seal for every inhabitant of the United States” has been realized. The sale last fall amounts to a voluntary tax of one cent for each man, woman and child in the country, except the insular possessions.

Seals were sold in every state and territory of the United States except Guam, Tahiti and Samoa. Counting the school children who sold seals numbering approximately 300,000, the total number of agents approaches 500,000. This includes school teachers, merchants, store keepers, professional men.

The association says the little Christmas tokens have been responsible, not only for the control of tuberculosis, but also for tremendous advances in the whole field of public health work.

Open windows the whole year through are today the rule rather than the exception. Tuberculosis is today generally recognized as curable and preventable, while ten years ago a vast number of people still held to the theory that it was inherited, incurable and unpreventable.

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Ind., March 9.—Auto license tags are scarce at the secretary of state's office and for several days it has been necessary to supplement the tags with certificates. The scarcity is due to the fact that the manufacturing firm in St. Louis is making tags for six other states and is unable to obtain sufficient material. The shortage may also be attributed, according to the secretary, to the fact that more than 50,000 tags have been issued so far this year.

Notice to Contractors

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned, Board of Commissioners of Rush county, Indiana, will receive sealed proposals at their office in the court house in the city of Rushville, Indiana, up until 2 o'clock p. m. on Monday, April 24, 1917, for the repair of the Isaac Webb bridge in Rushville township, Rush county, Indiana, all to be according to the plans and specifications now on file in the auditor's office of Rush county, Indiana.

All bids must be accompanied by bond as required by law.

The Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Witness our hands and seals this 5th day of March, 1917.

Rittenhouse Believes All Can Derive Benefits From Tanlac

Mishawaka, Ind., March 8th.—W. H. Rittenhouse, employe of the Mishawaka Woolen Mills Co., of 1018 North Margaret street, this city, believes many others can gain relief through use of Tanlac, the Master Medicine, just as he has.

"My system was run down generally all the time," Mr. Rittenhouse said on December 3, "My stomach, liver and kidneys were out of order and I also suffered from rheumatism. My food was not digested properly and none of my food tasted right. My kidneys caused severe pains in my back. The rheumatism caused severe pains in my limbs.

"The tired feeling that formerly bothered me almost constantly, has entirely disappeared since I've started taking Tanlac and I seem to have gained strength in all ways. My food tastes much better now and I enjoy what I eat. I can eat anything I care for, too, without any bad after effects.

"I've been benefited so much by Tanlac that I'm glad of this chance to recommend it to others for I believe it will help others just as it did me." Tanlac, the Master Medicine, is especially beneficial for stomach, liver and kidney trouble, catarrhal complaints, nervousness, loss of appetite and the like.

Tanlac is now being specially introduced and explained at F. E. Wolcott's drug store; in Arlington, at Mrs. L. T. Davis's; in Carthage at J. H. McCarthy and Sons and in Milroy at Barton's and Sheppard. (Adv.)

Melon Growers in California Put Them to Good Use to Protect Their Crop.

GATHER SEVERAL MILLION

Lady bug, Lady bug, Fly away home;
Your house is on fire
And your children will burn.

(By United Press.)

Sacramento, Cal., March 9.—If somebody stood up and yelled that quatrains down the Imperial valley today the melon growers would be in an awful fix because they have a hundred million lady bugs working for them killing off undesirable insects.

Agents of the States bug house spent weeks up in the mountains this year gathering the little red ladies with the speckled backs, who are considered particularly effective against the gentlemen bugs who attack the growing cantaloupe.

The California lady bug is getting quite a world wide reputation. Some several millions of her have been shipped to Italy and Australia for experimental purposes.

INDIANA WOMEN GOING.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 9.—Fifty Indiana suffragists have made plans to attend the annual council meeting of the Federation of Women Clubs which will be held in New Orleans April 9 to 14. A special train will leave Chicago, stopping at Indianapolis to pick up two or three cars of Indiana women, who will make the trip.

Among those who are making plans for the trip are Mrs. Carolyn Fairbanks, Ft. Wayne; Miss Vida Newsom, Columbus; Mrs. Felix McWhirter, Indianapolis.

OBSERVERS FACE TRYING MOMENTS

In One Instance With the Balloon Falling the Two Men Took Time to Telephone to Earth.

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

With the British Armies in the Field, Feb. 4.—(By Mail)—You remember the country fair? Remember the tremor of expectancy in the crowd gathered around the dingy old hot-air balloon as she swelled, oh, so slowly, with the smoke and fumes of the barrel-stave fire?

Will you ever forget the thrill she gave you as she lazily lurched into the air, dragging with her the fellow in the darned but spangled purple tights, the parachute-jump man with oiled hair plastered down on his forehead? You secretly half hoped he would fall and half feared he would.

Suppose you had to leave your job in the office, shop or on the farm, and begin such performances tomorrow? Suppose you had to go up in a balloon, in any and all sorts of weather, to be shot at by artillery and lunged at by hostile aircraft? Suppose you had to leap from burning balloons, or get tossed out of the basket of one while passing through the clouds?

What if America should suddenly find herself in a war and the billboards should say: "Your Country Needs You." Think you could do these things for her? British boys are doing the little trick every day. Yesterday they were clerking in stores, working in shops, book-keeping in offices or going to school. Today they are making parachute-leaps from balloons and other more thrilling things still.

Yesterday that Lieutenant you find yourself talking to, was a pink-and-white youth at Eton preparing to go up to Cambridge. Today he considers fighting duels above the clouds with Germans as much a part of his job as yesterday he considered calculus to be. Yesterday he was a school kid writing essays about flowers. Now he handles a machine-gun like a demon as he hurtles through the sky two miles a minute, or nose-dives after a war-hardened youth like himself when he is trying to kill.

Here's an example. The incident occurred in the observation balloon section. Two youngsters, carrying out observations over the German defenses, suddenly got a shell through their balloon. It began to fall, slowly at first, then faster. They were about a mile high.

"We're hit and falling!" one of the observers phoned down to the ground. "The hostile gun is at X-22-D62." A moment later the second observer 'phoned down the position of the hostile battery which had punctured them, but gave the position slightly different.

Then both boys jumped. Their parachutes opened about the same distance down and, not more than fifty feet apart, they were wafted earthward together.

"The blighters!" one youth called over to the other as they dangled half a mile above the earth. "They couldn't do that again in a million shots."

"Rummy lot of stale cheeses!" growled the other, waving an arm in the direction of the Germans. "Pure accident! They couldn't hit a bread-wagon if they tried." Thus chatting they landed in a field about a mile from their winch, and patiently trudged back.

"I'm sorry to note," said the company commander as they entered the hut serving as balloon section telephone central, "that you two gentlemen failed to agree on the location of the hostile battery which brought you down." And though there was a twinkle in his eyes, his voice was severe.

but perhaps our error was due to the observations being taken at different altitudes." Throughout the British army one finds boyish-looking officers. And they have again and again proved themselves up like this, when the pinch has come.

Two other young officers while at an altitude of about 4,000 feet found themselves caught in a windstorm before they could be hauled down. Just before reaching earth a violent gale hit the balloon, which pulled the winch on the ground completely over, snapping the wire cable. The sausage went up and off among the clouds like a bubble in a whirlwind.

At a tremendous height the balloon was struck by lightning and set on fire, throwing one of the officers out of the basket. His parachute opened but as the balloon, now falling like a rock, had its rigging tangled up with the lower cords of the parachute, the latter began descending at frightful velocity through the storm clouds. The officer might have cut the balloon loose, making his own escape a certainty, but he would have doomed his brother officer to certain death. So he refrained, preferring to take the millionth chance along with the other man.

The velocity of the fall extinguished the fire which had burned a great hole in the balloon and wind, getting in through this opening, caused the fabric to swell out thus forming a parachute of itself. The ground was reached with a thud which broke a collar-bone or two but both young men walked to the nearest dressing station where they "reported" before receiving first aid.

A committee appointed by the General Education Board of the Indiana Methodist Episcopal church to investigate the removal, is expected to make its report within a few weeks. The school will be moved in order to obtain a location with better transportation facilities. The committee is also investigating the advisability of making the institution a full standard college with the idea of developing it into a university or leaving it as a junior institution and making it a tributary to DePauw.

GRAIN SUPPLIES ARE MUCH LOWER

Stocks in Hands of Farmers Are Considerably Smaller This Year Than Usual

Exceptionally Favorable Spring Will be Necessary to Bring Them up to Average

Stocks of grains in the hands of Indiana farmers are considerably smaller this year than usual, according to George C. Bryant, field agent for Indiana of the United States department of agriculture.
This is due, he declares, principally to the high prices and great demand for all cereal products, all of which are of very good quality, and, to some extent, the small crops harvested last year.

Much complaint has been received regarding the damage to growing crops. Insufficient moisture and excessively cold weather the first part of February are the principal causes set forth. An exceptionally favorable spring will be necessary to bring the crops up to the average.

A summary of the March crop report for the state of Indiana and for the United States, as compiled by the Bureau of Crop Estimates (and transmitted through the Weather

St. Louis, March 9.—With several promising recruits to choose from as a tonic for his Brownies, Fielder Jones will enter spring training this year with a much better prospect than a year ago. He will not have to contend with Federal leaguers, believed to be a real ball players. He will have the benefit of a year's experience with the old Brownies. His selections are bound to be better than last spring.

Jones, silent as ever, ventured the assertion today that he will be in the fight.

"Of course, I'm hoping," he said. "But you know I never make early predictions." In an offhand manner he indicated that he has unlimited faith in his team. If he can get the right sort of a start, he thinks, the Browns will be hard to catch.

The infield struggle for St. Louis berths promises to be a thriller. There is lots of dead wood hanging onto the Brown coat-tails. Derrill Pratt and Jimmy Austin, guardians of second and third bases, respectively, will have to trek pretty fast to keep up with a pace that probably will be set by some youngsters.

Third base may see more action than second. Stevenson, Western league flash, and Bigler, from the North Pennsylvania league, are expected to make things pretty interesting for Austin. Every year, however, things are made interesting for Austin on advance reports and he is still there. Rumors of the future this year also may be of the Wall street leak kind. Jones declared the pennant was lost last year at third base, so Austin will have to show at his best.

Bill Kenworthy, veteran minor league star and a former federal leaguer, is going to have another fling at the majors. He will be given a shot at second base. Kenworthy is one of the most versatile players in the game. He has been known to catch and pitch with some skill. His utility powers probably will land him a steady job even if he doesn't horn in ahead of Pratt.

Paulette will try hard to replace Sisler at first. He has a hard job in prospect. Lavan seems to have the shortfield position sewed up. Ernie Johnson, among the Federals still in the big ring, will make a try for it, but Doc Lavan is certain he'll stay. Two gold catchers, Hale and White will appear. It was the catching department that cost the St. Louis aggregation the loss of many games. The veterans Severeid and Hartly were on the job anxious to be in shape and keep the youngsters from taking their places.

New Bantam Champion Goes on Theory That he Has to Prove he is the Best Man.

HE HAS GOOD REPUTATION

BY H. C. HAMILTON. (U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

New York, March 9.—Peter Galatto, otherwise known as Pete Herman, the new bantamweight champion, is off to a running start in the defense of his acquired title. He is one of the boys to whom the newspaper writers point with pride as a youth who isn't assuming, wants to fight, and is otherwise an ideal chap.

Whether he'll be able to live a life of fame without getting the swelled head and a consequent reputation for using dollars as a bed is something to be developed in the spring of old man Time. Right now he has it. It is to be hoped he sticks by it. Pete began his life as a bootblack. Being a native of Italy, he has nothing on several thousand of his countrymen who are shining their way to fame in the land of the free and the home of the brave.

One day Pete decided he wanted all the money he made for his very own, and he laid for the youth who came around after the dimes. He refused to shell out, with the result that the youth caught Pete one on the chin and nearly pulverized him. When Pete came to he brushed his clothes, started down the street, and when he found said youth he commenced to fight. The youth of the dime and nickel collection was sent to a hospital. From that time on Pete had his nickels and dimes and a fighting reputation. The latter was so good he decided to put it to use, which he did with such success that he has towered over the others in his class to the extent that he now is champion.

Herman is just 21. He has been fighting six years. He stands 5 feet 2 inches and weighs 116 pounds right along. Some day—off in the future—Pete is going to have a cafe New Orleans. Also, on top is going to be a gymnasium. He wants to fight just now—fight 'em all. A champion, he believes, should prove it.
